FROM THE PRESIDENT, JOAN CHERNOFF EPSTEIN

...For now the winter is past, the rains are over and gone.

Fresh shoots have sprouted from the ground,
the time of singing is here, and the voice of the dove is heard in our land.

The fig tree has ripened it's buds, the blossoming vines are releasing their fragrance –
Song of songs 2:8-13

Isn't this the most delightful time of the year? Trees are blooming, birds are singing and building their nests, and the garden awakens with flowers. It is amazing that these familiar sights and sounds return every year. All are familiar, yet all are a little different with a new season. Each spring I look forward to the consistency of things we have known all our lives, and look forward to the new ways they appear. A limb has grown, a nest is made from available supplies, and the colors of the garden change.

This past year has been challenging, but the familiarity of the seasons and daily routines have been comforting. We have learned much and will carry those lessons forward with new insight to better serve our congregation. With the slower pace which was imposed upon us has come a renewed appreciation for our family, our friends, and our community. You might be saying, "When will this go away? When can we be free to be with one another again?" At Adat Shalom, we are looking toward that future as well. I am impressed with the way our clergy and staff have adapted to changing situations, and know they will bring us together by any means available — both virtual and, when it is safe to do so, in-person. Some things will change, but others will remain comfortingly familiar.

We are rebuilding our nest too!

We welcome our new rabbi, Rabbi Daniel Horwitz in July. He brings with him extensive experience, education, and a commitment to community involvement. After spending the last year working out of town, Rabbi Horwitz is looking forward to returning to the area and being in close proximity to his family. We all had an opportunity to meet Rabbi Horwitz on both a Friday and Saturday evening in March, when he read from the Torah, shared a sermon, and let us get to know him better over that special weekend.

...And we are growing!

We also are excited to welcome Rabbi Blair Nosanwisch, who will serve in the newly created, part-time staff position of Director of Spiritual Care. Rabbi Nosanwisch, also from the area, is a JTS graduate who will be ordained in May. She describes herself as a spiritual leader and community weaver. She will bring a very spiritual and caring light to her work with the Adat Shalom membership.

Shavuot is just around the corner and brings with it the promise of hope, renewal, and growth. With this harvest celebration, also commemorating the giving of the Torah to the Children of Israel, we can reflect on how our synagogue has evolved: we have come far, learned much, and received many gifts. As more of us are vaccinated, as outdoor services return, as we rebuild our nest, Adat Shalom's welcoming atmosphere promises to also bring you hope, renewal and growth. A sense of normalcy will soon return, but it may look a little different, just like the flowering limb outside your window, and the bird nest in its branches.

FROM RABBI AARON BERGMAN

I am very lucky that I get to meet so many people. I am always impressed by how many people there are who started with so little in life, whether money or affection or opportunity, and were able to give so much in so many ways.

Greatness can come from surprising and unexpected places. This is one of the deep messages of Shavuot.

On Shavuot we read the Book of Ruth, the first person who was not born Jewish who asked to join the Jewish people. The Torah says that it is forbidden to marry Moabites, because of the disturbing story of Lot and his daughters. Ruth, though, is a Moabite. Her kindness, strength, and compassion overcome any issues of her background. She becomes the direct ancestor of King David and according to tradition, of the messiah, as well.

Rabbi Meir was one of the greatest rabbis of the Talmud. He was a brilliant scholar and a successful and generous business leader, despite his parents being such miserable people we do not even use their names when talking about him.

Our birth is not our destiny. We can recreate ourselves. This is one of the most important teachings of the Torah. We always have an opportunity to be the best version of ourselves.

I think this idea is particularly important on Shavuot. The Giving of Torah is a symbol that God believes we can live happier and better lives, if we wish.

Each one of us has the potential to overcome the things that torment us, the habits that hold us back. It does not matter where we came from, but what we are willing to do every day to live by our better natures.

Rabbi Aaron Bergman will be awarded an honorary Doctorate of Divinity by The Jewish Theological Seminary

This special Rabbinic Convocation is Sunday, June 6, 2021 at 1:00 PM

JTS invites us to join them in expressing their esteem and thanks for Rabbi Bergman's thirty years of religious leadership in the cause of Conservative Judaism and klal yisrael.

We will celebrate his many achievements and voice our appreciation for his dedication.

Registration information for the livestream link will be forwarded to you when it becomes available.

MESSAGES

FROM HAZZAN DANIEL GROSS
JEWISH MUSIC LIKE NO OTHER

You may have previously heard me up on my soapbox stating that there is only one type of music that is uniquely "Jewish." Klezmer? Hazzanut? Nope — both of those genres are combinations of various musical styles from different geographic regions and ethnic backgrounds. What I hypothesize as the only kind of true Jewish music is what we refer to as trope. Also known as cantillation marks, or ta'amei hamikra in Hebrew, trope form a unique system of both punctuation and melody.

The system of cantillation was codified by the end of the tenth century by rabbis of the Ben Asher school in Tiberias. These scholars not only devised this system of trope but also created the phonetic symbols that provide the vowel symbols for the Hebrew language. (The Torah has no vowels as the Hebrew language originally developed without them.) The scholars from the Ben Asher school were called Masoretes, masoret referring to the transmission of a tradition. The system of vowels and trope was created by the Masoretes in order to aid in the study of the holy texts by standardizing spelling, pronunciation, and cantillation. This is why the text of the Tanach (the books of Torah, Prophets, and Writings) with vowels and trope is frequently referred to as the Masoretic Text.

The Masoretes created over twenty different trope symbols, each one representing a different musical motif (that is, a group of notes which together create a short and distinctive melody). They also created the rules for their usage. Depending on the specific trope symbol, it will be placed either above or below the word. Moreover, the trope's placement within a word is crucial because it denotes where the word should be accented — certain Hebrew words can change meaning depending on which syllable is accented. The combination of various trope symbols together aid in understanding the grammatical structure of the text.

In modern Ashkenazic Jewish practice, there are six different cantillation styles. It is important to note that the trope symbols remain the same regardless of the style being chanted. The two most common cantillation styles are Torah and Haftarah, which are heard on a weekly basis. The four other cantillation styles are used on 1) the High Holidays for the Torah readings, 2) the Three Festivals for the specific books/megillot that are used (Ecclesiastes/Kohelet on Sukkot; Song of Songs/Shir Hashirim on Pesach; and the Book of Ruth/Megillat Ruth on Shavuot), 3) Tisha B'Av for the Book of Lamentations/Eicha, and 4) Purim for the Book of Esther/Megillat Esther.

The differentiation of the trope styles is a beautiful way to highlight the different holidays by giving them a unique and special sound that is associated with the holiday-specific readings. The next chance to hear one of these special "uniquely Jewish" trope styles will be during Shavuot morning services on May 17, when we have several of our very talented congregants chant excerpts from the Book of Ruth. Please plan to join us!

Hazzan Gross and Mickey Gross, Shabbat morning, March 20, 2021. Mazal tov, Mickey on becoming a Bar Mitzvah!

FROM MICHAEL WOLF
DIRECTOR OF SPIRITUALITY AND OUTREACH

I read an article about what I can do for 20 minutes a day that will make my life better in 30 days. There were a variety of answers including - stop being so myopic and quit looking for a quick fix! Here's one written by author Doug Arney:

Gratitude. When you get up in the morning you have two choices. Do you start your day positively or negatively? If the first thing you do is listen to or read the news you're going to be depressed. It's all bad, all the time. Instead, while you're getting ready, give thanks for every blessing you have. But warn people. Your new attitude will shock them. He concludes by saying - "A great life isn't built by doing great things. Just ordinary things greatly."

Which is a great segue to my Voice article - how does one go about writing an article when it feels like you are basically living in the movie Groundhog's Day? I log on to Zoom services 10 minutes before the morning service and 10 minutes before the afternoon/evening service. 20 minutes of my day - every day - for the past year...

Next I Google - "what can you do in 10 minutes" and have found a lot of suggestions including (but not limited to): unload the dishwasher, fold one load of laundry, put away one load of folded laundry, vacuum our main living area, clear off/declutter your desk, call and make an appointment, sort through the mail, make your bed, write down friends and family member birthdays for the year in my planner, shower and get ready, respond to several email, write several thank-you notes, brainstorm blog post ideas, call a friend (a short talk is better than no talk!), make a shopping list, purchase needed items online.

Here's what I do for those 10 minutes before services - I play music (except on Shabbat - always Jewish and usually thematic - relating to our liturgy) - the music is played softly so those entering our Zoom community can talk and catch up - like our fixed liturgy - we have our 'go to' conversation starters - sharing the weather in Michigan, Florida, New York, and Toronto, where we are in the process of obtaining our vaccines, how much longer till we gather again in the synagogue - then just catching up - just being together - whether our cameras are on or off - some even communicate with the symbols Zoom provides to us so people know we are present (Charlotte - we see you and so appreciate you!). I am sure I could find more productive ways to spend 10 minutes - but I am positive that I don't want to - and I am so grateful to those who find (no - MAKE) the time to help ensure we have a minyan on Zoom!

Oh, and if you are looking for a great way to spend 20 minutes a day (that I believe will truly make your life better) - log on at exactly 6:00 PM for minchah/maariv and One Minute Of Fun (FOMO backward) by 6:20ish you can get back to whatever "it" is - or please stay on for another 2 minutes if you're not in a rush...

WELCOME

Rabbi Daniel S. Horwitz is a product of the Metro Detroit Jewish community, and is committed to fostering a joyful Judaism that is inclusive, inspiring, and relevant. A lifelong learner, in addition to rabbinic ordination, he holds a BA in Politics, an MA in Jewish Studies, an MA in Jewish Education, an MA in Sports Management, and a JD.

Before joining Adat Shalom, Rabbi Horwitz served as the CEO of the Alper JCC in Miami, was the founding director of The Well, which was repeatedly recognized as one of the most innovative Jewish organizations in North America, and was the organizational rabbi for Moishe House, the global leader in engaging young Jewish adults in their 20s.

Designated by The Forward as one of America's Most Inspiring Rabbis, Rabbi Horwitz is a graduate of Hazon's Clergy Leadership Incubator, was selected to be part of the Open Dor Project's inaugural cohort of spiritual entrepreneurs, completed the ELI Talks Speaker Fellowship, and has been a featured educator at gatherings ranging from JFNA's Tribefest, to Hillel International's Engagement Institute, to the MASA Leadership Summit in Israel.

A lover of hummus, Jewish music jam sessions, and playing basketball, Rabbi Horwitz and his wife Miriam, a certified American Sign Language interpreter, are thrilled to call Metro Detroit home along with their kiddos Jonah, Micah, and Atara.

We asked Rabbi Horwitz what he hopes to bring to our congregation:

I'm incredibly excited to have the opportunity to return home in order to join the Adat Shalom community! In addition to having the chance to work alongside world-class colleagues and committed lay leaders, as someone who thrives on being in meaningful relationship with others, I'm excited to connect (and in some cases, reconnect) deeply with those who make up the Adat Shalom family.

There are three core Jewish teachings that I hope to model day in and day out as your rabbi:

\ In Bereshit (18:2), we learn of our patriarch Abraham's devotion to welcoming guests, to the point where he actually runs out of his tent (while God was visiting him to pay a Bikur Cholim visit 3 days after Abraham's adult circumcision no less!) in order to greet strangers passing by. You can always count on me to bring intention to creating welcoming environments, with a willingness to run out in order to connect with and meet people wherever they are.*

\ R' Shammai teaches in Pirkei Avot (1:15) that we should receive all people with a cheerful countenance. You will always be able to count on me greeting you with a smile!*

\ In Kohelet (3:1), we read that "To everything there is a season; and a time for every purpose under heaven." In moments of extreme joy, intense sorrow, and every time in between, you can count on me to show up – being there to celebrate, mourn, and to walk through this life together.*

It is with these teachings in mind and in heart that I look forward to serving and growing with the Adat Shalom community!

Rabbi Daniel Horwitz joined Rabbi Bergman and Hazzan Gross in officiating at Shabbat services on Friday evening, March 12 and Saturday morning, March 13, 2021.

- The complex features of Jewish peoplehood inherent in our tradition and in our history.
- Examining contemporary forces challenging peoplehood... nationalism, antisemitism, dual-loyalty, and identity politics.
- Imagining new conceptual frameworks that can help sustain and grow the story of our people for a new millennium.
- Who are we? What does it mean to be a member of the Jewish people?

As this crazy school year comes to a close, I'm optimistic about what next year's learning will look like. We are planning for a hybrid approach: in person classes following CDC guidelines on Sunday mornings (PK-6) and Monday evenings (7-12), and online learning midweek for grades 2-7. In order to keep children in smaller groups as much as possible and reduce transmission risk, we will be maintaining our individualized Hebrew program, allowing families to choose the times and days that work best for their children. We are also excited to continue with chuggim (electives) for children, which will take place online during the week. These extra opportunities to connect and grow are so important! The selection process will be streamlined and part of your school registration forms. If you are interested in being on our Education Committee, please contact me (mser@adatshalom.org) or Rick Goren (rick.goren@gmail.com).

Pedagogy of Partnership Midwest Fellowship

I've had the pleasure of learning with the Pedagogy of Partnership program this year, and look forward to continuing to do so in 2021-2022 as well. Among the things we have learned are some conversation prompts that help us learn together. What's so interesting, though, is that these conversation prompts are proving crucial to re-teach social skills to teens and upper elementary students (and, perhaps, to adults too!).

After over a year in relative isolation, many of our students are having trouble articulating their thoughts, listening to others, and responding appropriately. We all struggle sometimes to have ourselves heard - and how often do we walk away from a conversation wondering if it went according to plan? Something as simple as "tell me more about what you mean" or "I want to build on what you just said" can be the difference between a worthwhile conversation and a diatribe or monologue. "Is there another way to understand that" is much more effective than "No, you're wrong!" or "Okay, whatever!" These skills are taught, through text study and conversational practice, during our weekly Nosh & Drash sessions; next year, they will become a more formal part of our upper elementary classes as well.

As the youth engagement programming season is concluding and before I start working with our dedicated team of youth leaders to plan next year's calendar of community building and fun events, it is my pleasure to share a few highlights from this year.

The kids had a blast laughing, exploring, and being part of our caring community. They had fun stretching their bodies and making a name art project during "Move n' Groove" in partnership with PJ Library and JFamily. They also had a blast creating one of a kind desserts during "Kids Take Over the Kitchen" co-led by Sam Vieder.

By design, our teen engagement program is an a la carte menu of opportunities for teens to engage, connect, and learn with other teens, and develop meaningful relationships. Teens made a difference during their involvement in the Teen Volunteer Corps. They also enriched their minds during Nosh n' Drash. Teen Madrichim (teachers' assistants) were positive Jewish role models to younger kids. Through hands-on classroom experiences and weekly trainings, Madrichim also gained valuable life and professional skills.

6th to 12th graders are invited to volunteer at the 4th Annual Youth United Interfaith Service Camp benefiting CARES of Farmington Hills community center from Tuesday, August 3 to Thursday, August 5. In the late morning, teens will gather via Zoom, and meet special guest speakers who are making a positive impact and improving lives throughout Metro Detroit. In the afternoon, teens will work on volunteer projects either on their own or in person at CARES. Adat Shalom is a proud community partner of Youth United. More information will be sent via email.

There are many opportunities for kids and teens to make lasting friends, be part of an active youth community, contribute to our congregation and make connections with our educators, youth professionals and clergy. I look forward to continuing the important work I do with and for youth, the future leaders of Adat Shalom.

FROM SAMMI SHAPIRO

Assistant Director of Education & Youth Engagement
sshapiro@adatshalom.org

Shavuot is one of the three festival holidays which focuses on the spring grain harvest and our receiving of the Torah. We traditionally celebrate this holiday by reading the book of Ruth, studying all night, and eating dairy. An added custom is to elaborately decorate spaces with flowers. If you are looking for an easy and delicious cheesecake recipe do a Google search for "King Arthur Baking Easy Cheesecake". For family fun, make it in a cupcake pan and each family member can make their own flavors (raspberry swirl, sprinkles, lemon...just a few ideas).

Want to keep the kids busy? Try making craft stick flowers.

What you need: craft sticks (regular or jumbo, any color*), liquid glue, jewel or stone or button

*Paint or markers can be used on plain craft sticks

1. Take 4-6 craft sticks regular or jumbo sized
2. Lay one stick on a table and put a dab of glue in the center
3. Place a stick on top of the first so it resembles a wide X
4. Place another dab of glue in the center and lay another stick across the middle of the X
5. Continue gluing on 1-3 more sticks so that the joined sticks look like a full flower
6. Place a dab of glue on the top stick and stick a button or jewel on top.
7. Continue until you have made as many flowers as you like
8. Once dry attach a green stick to the back of the flower for the stem

Activity adapted from Crafting Jewish by Rivky Koenig

We loved seeing so many of you at Tot Shabbat led by Hazz'n Dan in partnership with PJ Library in February.

Our 6th grade students participating in the Better Together program were invited to compete in the Better 2 Write essay-writing contest. Yasher Koach to all who submitted essays and a huge thank you to the judges: Rabbi Aaron Bergman, Abbi Emerson, Jodi Gross, Sammi Shapiro, and Susie Steinberg.

The winner is Mallory Columbus and the very close runner up is Alexis Migliore. We are so proud of our teens, and so grateful for the support of our Better Together community members: Shelley and Gene Perlman, Claire and Gene Richmond, Rena Tepman, and Roberta Wolf. Stay tuned to our next Voice to read the winning essay.

Third & Fourth Grade KABBALAT SIDDUR CELEBRATION

May 2, 2021 at 10:30 am

The program will take place online at <http://bit.ly/siddurcelebration>

On the first gorgeous day of spring, a handful of Nosh & Drash students, along with our Shinshinit Noa Lumbroso, joined Dr. Melissa Ser in her backyard for a discussion about Passover and some informal socializing. This was the first in-person gathering in over a year, and it was truly wonderful to see friends so genuinely happy to be together. It's not easy to return to any in-person gathering, even outdoors and with masks on! We are supposed to see ourselves as if we were slaves in Egypt - and as if we were freed from slavery. This year, we shared a profound observation about what it must have felt like for the former slaves to suddenly not know what they were supposed to do each day. The transition from slavery to freedom must have been as frightening as it was liberating. As teens reflected on the transition from total lockdown to gradual easing of restrictions (on the way toward full freedom), they shared that it's much easier when things are clear-cut than when you have some leniencies.

Following Passover break, Nosh & Drash resumed outdoors at Adat Shalom. Teens and staff wore masks and maintained physical distancing.

SISTERHOOD

The Founding Fathers of Adat Shalom have been referred to many times, but their wives have rarely been. These were the women who took it upon themselves to start the Kiddush program by financially sustaining it and providing Shabbat and Holiday Kiddush. These were the women who banded together to start the Sisterhood of Adat Shalom over 75 years ago. As the congregational membership grew, so did the Sisterhood membership. Leadership expanded the role Sisterhood played. We became the "heart and soul" of our religious community. We were no longer just the "Kiddush Ladies". Programs and events were created to promote social, educational, spiritual, charitable, and community outreach opportunities for our members to actively participate in.

We are now in the process of evaluating and restructuring our Sisterhood to determine how best to serve our membership. Because your input matters, we have created a short survey to assist us in this endeavor. This survey will provide the opportunity to express your feelings about the future direction you would like to see Sisterhood take. It will also allow you to share how you would like to participate in Sisterhood. The results will help us in the process of moving forward.

If you haven't already done so, please take a few moments to complete the survey (www.adatshalom.org/sisterhoodsurvey). As you know, open lines of communication are so vital to the success of our affiliate. If you have any ideas, concerns or comments, please share them with us.

We plan to discuss the survey results at our next Zoom Sisterhood Informational Meeting on May 6, 2021 at 7:00 pm. Please put this date on your calendar!

Thank you in advance for completing the survey. We need your help and your support to move forward.

MEN'S CLUB

MEN'S CLUB MUSINGS...BY LON ZABACK

It has been a year of discovery as we've chronicled the Jewish calendar through a video screen. They say 'it takes a village' to be successful. For me, that village is the Men's Club board, its trustees, our clergy, the synagogue staff, and the numerous volunteers who keep our Men's Club and its programs running.

Thoughtful Thursdays has been our most frequent program this past year. In March, Rabbi Bergman introduced the topic of 'Dr. Seuss, Colin Kaepernick and Cancel Culture'. We discussed fact vs fiction, and how current events are reminiscent of historical events. Please join the discussion as Rabbi Bergman leads Thoughtful Thursdays in May, June, and throughout the summer.

Our thanks to Rabbi Bergman and Hazzan Gross who led us in story and song at an engaging pre-Passover Men's Seder, 'Charting your own Exodus'. A shout out to Alan Chandross for chairing. In April we hosted our Fathers & Kids DIY craft activity - in person! Fulfilling our Tikkun Olam mission, we restored the benches at the Adat Shalom bonfire and provided a unique opportunity for fathers and children to share in creating structures that will be enjoyed for years to come. Please stop by the site to see the dramatic update. Yasher Koach to Jaron Friedman and Aaron Perlman for chairing this event.

The Intercongregational Men's Club Softball league started in April. If you are interested in playing and joining the camaraderie and fun, please contact George Dickstein, 586-431-9432 / gddoec@gmail.com, or Michael Betman, noagold@sbcglobal.net / 248-470-8617.

Returning as an 'in-person' event this year is the acclaimed Daddy Daughter Dance on May 23rd. Bring your daughters and granddaughters for dancing, food, and a photo booth at the reimagined outdoor 'drive-in' event. Please see the flyer or contact Jaron Friedman, friedmja@hotmail.com.

The Adat Shalom Men's Club takes pride in providing engaging social, spiritual, and Tikkun Olam opportunities for men of all ages. This is your Men's Club and you belong here. Participating, volunteering, and sharing with others enriches lives. Please feel free to reach out for more information.

WELCOME

We welcome Rabbi Blair Nosanwisch to Adat Shalom!

Rabbi Blair Nosanwisch is excited to be joining the Adat Shalom team as Director of Spiritual Care. She will be ordained at the Jewish Theological Seminary in May, 2021. Rabbi Nosanwisch is passionate about building loving and nourishing communities through care, prayer, Torah, and food. She is committed to re-imagining how kashrut operates beyond industrialized food systems, and how God operates in our lives. She is excited to bring her caregiving skills and her creativity to Adat Shalom. Rabbi Nosanwisch hopes to ask big questions about the world and how we live in it as humans and as Jews, and to foster a sense that we are responsible for ourselves and for each other.

Before pursuing the rabbinate, Rabbi Nosanwisch was a Board member and Chair of Education and Social Action at the Isaac Agree Downtown Synagogue (IADS); co-founder of an educational initiative for Jewish teens and tweens called Peercorps; a cross-cultural urban garden called Eden Gardens; and creator of "Pickle Torah" in which she combined a do-it-yourself food ethic, rooted in sustainability and personal responsibility, with an exploration of how Torah informs our lives.

Rabbi Nosanwisch graduated from the University of Michigan in 2008 with a BA in English, French, and Women's Studies. She received her masters in experiential Jewish Education from the Jewish Theological Seminary in 2015. She is a certified shochetet (kosher slaughterer), served as Rabbinic Intern at Congregation Sons of Israel in Nyack, NY, CPE (Spiritual Care) Intern at the University of Michigan Hospital, and served as student Rabbi at Beth El Synagogue in Woodbury, CT from 2017-2021. Her best friend Phreddy teaches Judaics at Hillel Day School and they are proud parents of Honi, who loves digging in the dirt, and Erev Willow, who loves to dance.

SOCIAL ACTION

SOCIAL ACTION IN ACTION

Lighthouse South Oakland Shelter - Housing the Homeless Sunday, June 20 - June 27

It will be different this year, but we are committed to meeting the needs of the homeless among us! Due to COVID-19, the South Oakland Shelter has transitioned their rotating shelter to an area hotel. In the past year, they have gone from serving 225 meals a week to over 4,500 meals a week. They need us to provide individual meals for the families in their emergency shelter. We have a goal of providing 50 individual lunches and dinners for each day of the week. We may be purchasing meals from local restaurants or assembling meals to deliver. We will need volunteers to pick up meals, deliver, and make meals for the week. For COVID-19 safety we will also need individually pre-packaged snacks and desserts to be included with the meals. In addition, a contribution to the Hillel Isaac and Rachel Maisel Memorial Housing the Homeless Fund would greatly help in ensuring that we can meet these needs. If you can help, please contact Evva Hepner (248.798.7673) or Debbie Cohen (248.755.9940).

Red Cross Blood Drive

The American Red Cross can always count on the Adat Shalom community when blood is needed. On March 7, 50 dedicated donors came through our doors to donate. In all, 42 pints of blood were successfully collected. We thank all who donated, as well as those who attempted to donate.

In addition to the Red Cross workers and our donors, we are thankful for our volunteers who kept the donors hydrated and fed while they relaxed after donating. Many thanks to Evva Hepner, Kathy Halliburton, and Beth Bitterman for volunteering in the canteen.

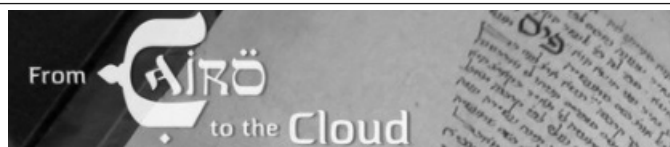

Lastly, we would like to thank Marvin for opening the synagogue at 6:30 a.m. and for setting out tables, chairs, and coffee for the drive. We appreciate all that you do, Marvin!

We hope to see you all in September!

Thank you to Co-Chairs, Ruth Zerlin and Debbie Portney. They have worked tirelessly to ensure that Adat Shalom has not missed a blood drive during the past year!

Adat Shalom Synagogue is proud to sponsor the showing of the film, From Cairo to the Cloud as part of the Detroit Jewish Film Festival, May 2 - 23, 2021.

You will find Rabbi Bergman's introduction to the movie on the website culturalarts.jccdet.org/filmfest.

May 3 at 7:00 PM the festival is partnering with JTS for a presentation featuring David Kraemer, Head of Libraries at JTS to discuss this film.

Join us when Rabbi Bergman interviews Professor David Kraemer during our "Journey Through the Jewish Past" program on Monday, June 21 (page 7).

Tikkun Adat:

Sharing more than bricks & mortar

Hi Adat friends,

Virus, shmirus, I'm so glad to be in touch with you this month!

Covid aside (and may it be aside forever after), I'll just catch up with a message to our newest Adat Shalomniks:

"Dear babies, if you kids out there want to see your name in lights (aka: The VOICE), tell your parents to pass on the good news of your birth to the Adat Shalom office. They'll be happy to hear from you, and one day we'll celebrate together. Now wouldn't you call that a warm welcome?"

OK, now that we've informed our babies, here's a note for their elders:

Once the accursed C... is history, Charm Levine would like you folks to stay tuned for plans to acknowledge the blessed additions to our shul family.

Hey, baby baskets are a tradition! Are you up to a joyful mitzvah?

If so, email her at charmley@hotmail.com

Sincerely,
Charlotte Dubin

Dear Debbie (Portney):

Thank you for coordinating the Sunday, March 7, 2021 blood drive. We were very pleased with the drive overall, and the willingness of the donors to share this life saving gift.

The efforts of Adat Shalom Synagogue have always been greatly appreciated and their support of the community blood program will go a long way toward replenishing blood supplies and ultimately saving lives.....

On a yearly basis, Dr. Keith Huey, a Professor of Religion at Rochester College in Michigan, brings a group of students from his Comparative Religion class to Adat Shalom Synagogue to learn from Rabbi Yoskowitz. This year it was on Zoom, but the take-aways from the students were as interesting and insightful as always.

The thing I found most significant in Rabbi Yoskowitz's overview of Judaism was that their greatest joy is to help others. I feel like there are strong ties within community and family in many religions, but the extent to which Jews serve one another is very unique. Rabbi Yoskowitz explained that in the Jewish community, they are a "we," not an "I." - Kaitlyn

Kaddish During COVID-19

by Joyce Berlin Weingarten

My beloved father's passing from COVID-19 on April 24, 2020 during the stay at home order was a nightmare. It would have been a nightmare whenever he passed but these circumstances certainly made it worse.

My heart is broken. Will it ever heal? I can't stop crying.

Ten people allowed at the cemetery all in masks and social distanced. Ten people who do not include my children or siblings. They live out of town and it is too dangerous to travel during COVID. They are watching the funeral on livestream as is everyone else.

It is surreal. I can't stop crying.

I am grateful for my husband who is by my side, my niece, my cousins, and my wonderful clergy.

On the way home from the cemetery, my husband says, "That was crazy."

"The funeral?" I ask, "Or did you see something on the road just now?"

"The funeral," he says.

Brunch is waiting on our porch from friends when we return and we begin a week of shiva. Just the two of us and our dog. We have virtual shiva visits via Facetime and phone calls and I am grateful. Dinner is delivered every day by family and friends. I don't believe I have ever felt so grateful for food in my life.

The morning after the funeral, I click on the link to Adat Shalom's ZOOMinyan and there you all are—my beloved minyan family. There you all are in your Zoom windows offering me words of condolence. There you all are just as you were for me and my father in our synagogue chapel when my beloved mother passed. There you all are and we begin again. Eleven months less one day. The only thing missing for me is your hugs.

I turn my kitchen into shul twice a day to say Kaddish with my minyan family and it soon becomes a new normal. We are able to be together virtually to daven and to allow mourners to say Kaddish. I am so grateful to be part of this community. I need to be part of this community. My reasons for saying Kaddish now are the same as they were when I said Kaddish for my mother. It is my responsibility as a child, it gives honor and memory to my father's name, and it is part of my own personal therapy. And when the heart slowly, slowly begins to heal, it allows you to be a light to other people as well. I hold these reasons to still be truth. Even on Zoom.

There will be a time when we can gather in person again. Until then, our community will continue to meet like this every day, twice a day, and we will continue to support each other during these challenging times.

Joyce and her dad, Louis Berlin, May 2016.

Adat Shalom Synagogue Tributes

Adat Shalom's tribute funds provide support for our many important synagogue programs and services, which help to define us as an outstanding congregation.

We have set an $18 minimum price for tribute cards.

We are very grateful to members and friends who have consistently purchased tributes, marking lifecycle events and other significant occasions, and we encourage your continued support. Each greeting is individually prepared on a handsome card.

To arrange for a tribute, please visit our website www.adatshalom.org/tributes or call the synagogue office at 248.851.5100. We will process your tribute and mail it promptly.

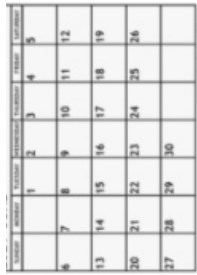

Tributes received by the 1st of the month will appear in the following month's VOICE.

For information about how to establish a fund, please contact Executive Director Alan Yost.
