MESSAGES

FROM THE PRESIDENT, JOAN CHERNOFF EPSTEIN

A few weeks ago, my family-- including my husband, children and grandchildren--all gathered in Connecticut to celebrate my grandson's birthday weekend. Following our Shabbat meal, our son Brandon brought out a family game for all to participate. It had cards with a series of questions for all to reply to. After we had answered several questions, the final one was, "If you were an ice cream flavor, what would you be?" My first inclination was to say vanilla, but it only took a moment to realize that wasn't the case at all.... I thought that vanilla with a chocolate swirl represented me better! Not everything has a clear answer, not everything is as simple as black and white. My ice cream is a blend of opposing elements, but in such a way as to preserve their individual parts. You get different versions when you blend things in different ways, and in life, when you blend different people, ideas, or cultures, you get many different and enriching results. As you blend things, you get a different perspective of things-- and isn't that what we've been doing over the last two years?

I cannot believe how quickly two years of serving as your president have flown by. When I began, it seemed like my duties were well outlined, and I inherited a synagogue in good order. My responsibilities appeared as clear as black and white. But then, with the addition of different ingredients, boy did things get mixed up! We were thrust into a time where we didn't know what tomorrow would bring, or even what we were doing today. There were no guidelines or rulebooks to follow to know how things should be done or handled. It felt like we were all in the Dairy Queen Blizzard machine, with all kinds of bits and pieces thrown into the mix. The complexity and intensity of the challenges we have faced together over these two years never could have been anticipated. There were many changes to our lives: there was fear and anxiety; there was confusion, loneliness, and uncertainty. But we prevailed through it all, while learning new ways to communicate and connect. We have grown stronger as a synagogue, and our community is thriving.

Much of our success is due to the foresight, calmness and steady hand of Rabbi Bergman's leadership. He constantly motivates, inspires and enhances all of us. Just recently he spoke at the bat mitzvah of a young girl, Eliana, whose family fled Belarus, where they did not have the freedom to practice Judaism. And the day before her bat mitzvah, Adat Shalom received an ugly threat. This coincidence was not lost on Rabbi Bergman. Fortunately, the threat was just a phone call without substance, and the synagogue was deemed safe after a thorough inspection. Such things remind us of our vulnerability, at the same time as we are uplifted by Eliana's family. They endured much to come here, requiring great strength and perseverance to be able to practice their faith openly. We are a resilient and welcoming community that can handle the changes and challenges put before us. We all want there to be certainty in our lives, but we know things can change in a second. As I write this a month before it will be published, the news of the war on Ukraine brings more uncertainty. At this time, we don't know when, or how, the conflict will end, but we do all we can to support Ukraine and its people. We are inspired by the strength and courage shown by President Zelenskyy.

Some happier changes we have seen lately include being able to return to worship in person; to have a Purim party again and share delicious hamantaschen together; to hold a joyful Daddy Daughter Dance; and to attend Shabbat Shalom Hey on Friday mornings.

FROM RABBI AARON BERGMAN

We all know there are holidays, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, that we ask each other and God for forgiveness. What moves and amazes me, though, is that there is also a holiday that God asks us for forgiveness. Shavuot, the time of the giving of the Torah, is when God acknowledges that the world that was created is an absolute chaotic mess and can only be fixed by us.

Let me give you the context of Shavuot. It is the only holiday that does not have its own date. It is effectively the 50th day of the counting of the Omer, which begins at the second Pesach seder.

Rabbi Nachman of Breslov says that the first 49 days of the counting of the Omer are about our repenting, our teshuva. Day 50 of the Omer is God repenting.

He has an extraordinary approach to a verse from the prophet Malachi who says, "From the very days of your ancestors you have turned away from My laws and have not observed them. Turn back to Me, and I will turn back to you--said the LORD of Hosts."

Rabbi Nachman wrote, "The person who would like to merit teshuva (repentance) should say Tehillim (Psalms) regularly, for Tehillim enablistes teshuva. There are 50 gates of teshuva and every person is able to enter 49 of these gates and to grasp them; however the 50th gate is the idea of "God's personal teshuva." Because also by God we find an aspect of teshuva, as it is written, "Return to Me and I will return to you."

The Omer is a daily reminder that we suffered horribly in Egypt and even though God eventually took us out, the suffering was real and painful and emotionally damaging.

Matan Torah, the giving of Torah, is a form of God's repentance. It is an admission that God needs us to keep the world from falling into chaos. Yet Matan Torah is not just the giving, but the gift itself, the matanah, to help heal the relationship between God and humanity.

The world feels chaotic and challenging in every way. Shavuot tells us that we are not always the cause of suffering, but we can be the cure, we can be the ones who help take away some of the world's pain when we work with each other in helping to fix the divine mess that is our lives.

God gave us the gift of Torah, but also the gift of admitting that even God needs help. Let us be that help. Find a cause that matters to you and work at it. You won't solve it, but you might just be the person who makes a world of difference.

Our clergy welcomed the Bloomfield Hills Middle School World Religions class, teaching about Judaism and showing them our synagogue.

FROM HAZZAN DANIEL GROSS

Bows and Arrows

In Jewish tradition, there are many well-known pairings. To name a few, there are the lulav and etrog, apples and honey, challah and wine, matzah and maror, and gefilte fish and horseradish. Did you know that the bow and arrow is also a significant duo connected to Lag BaOmer? The association of a weapon with a holiday seems quite odd. Like most customs in Judaism, various reasons have been proffered in explanation. I will focus on two of the primary traditional explanations behind this intriguing connection.

According to kabbalistic tradition, Lag BaOmer celebrates the yahrzeit of the venerated 2nd century Rabbi Shimon bar Yochai, known as “the Rashbi.” Rashbi was a Mishnaic sage whose kabbalistic teachings are said to form the foundation of the Zohar. On Lag BaOmer it is customary for many thousands of people to make a pilgrimage to Rashbi’s burial place in Meron, Israel, and to celebrate the occasion with bonfires and feasts. There is a midrash that claims that no rainbows appeared during the Rashbi’s life. The Hebrew word for rainbow and an archer’s bow is one and the same – keshet. Therefore, in celebration of the great sage’s life and to make up for the lack of rainbows, children are given toy bows and arrows to play with.

Rashbi was a leading disciple of the exalted teacher, Rabbi Akiva, who himself is connected to a second traditional explanation linking Lag BaOmer to the bow and arrow. During the 2nd century there was a great plague that was said to have taken the lives of 24,000 of Rabbi Akiva’s disciples. The plague allegedly ended on the 33rd day of the Omer. In a semi-historical sidenote, an interesting if somewhat unsupported 19th century hypothesis suggested that the word “plague” was not a mysterious illness but rather a veiled allusion to the Roman rule over Judea. Akiva’s thousands of disciple “soldiers” may have been killed during the 2nd century period of the Bar Kochba revolt against the Romans. The end of the “plague” on Lag BaOmer may have coincided with a brief period of victory for Rabbi Bar Kochba, after which the revolt was finally crushed. The bow and arrow usage on Lag BaOmer is symbolic of the weaponry that would have been utilized during the revolt.

In the Middle Ages, Lag BaOmer became a special holiday for students and it took on the nickname “Scholars’ Day,” a day of rejoicing and celebrating by playing outdoor sports. This depiction of the holiday is the one most familiar to us in modern times. Regardless of how you personally connect to Lag BaOmer and whether or not you were aware of the bow and arrow connection, participating in outdoor activities provides a tangible family-friendly way to observe a rather mystifying holiday. I like to think of the bow and arrow not with regard to ancient warfare but as it connects to modern-day sports (including archery!) and the positive aspects of this springtime holiday.

This year, Lag BaOmer begins the night of Wednesday, May 18, and ends the following evening, May 19. May you find inspiration and joy in celebrating Lag BaOmer!

FROM RABBI DANIEL S. HORWITZ

Of all the ways one could mark a Jewish holiday, eating dairy foods – as we do on Shavuot – is not usually what comes to mind. Generally, we associate Jewish holidays with meat eating! Think about the Rosh Hashanah brisket. The chicken soup for Shabbat. The kreplach for Purim. (That’s a real thing by the way! Esther had a secret that she was Jewish that she kept inside, just like kreplach has a secret filling inside. Others say that the Purim miracle was hidden, just like kreplach’s filling is hidden. Heaven forbid we should ever agree on anything!).

The Torah states that we shall rejoice in our festivals (Deut. 16:14), and there is a Talmudic teaching that says that there is no joy without meat (Bab. Tal. Pesachim 109a). So, for many traditional Jews, meat is considered a requirement as part of any holiday, Shabbat or lifecycle feast!

So, why on Shavuot do we traditionally eat dairy foods? After all, Shavuot is one of our major holidays! Is it some sort of cruel joke? After all, according to a report in Haaretz a handful of years ago, a full 75% of Jews of Ashkenazi descent are lactose intolerant! Is there something more to it?

Just as with kreplach above, there are a number of answers that address this question, and we’re going to have the chance to explore many of them together on Tuesday evening May 24th, while also getting to sample and learn about a number of luxury kosher cheeses courtesy of cheesemonger extraordinaire Zach Berg of Mongers’ Provisions. It will be an excellent way to get in the mood for the Shavuot holiday which begins just over a week later, and I hope you’ll join me!

Wishing you a Lactaid-filled Shavuot,

Rabbi Dan

Everyone is invited to

Zach Berg began his food career at 13 working in kosher catering. He is a proud graduate of Adat Shalom's Nosh and Drash program as well as Michigan State University's School of Hospitality Business. After cooking his way through high school and college, Zach spent 2 years at Zingerman's learning the world of specialty goods. After Zingerman's, Zach moved to the Bay Area to attend the Culinary Institute of America and cook in the fine dining world of San Francisco. Eventually, Zach found his way back to cheese at Bi-Rite Market for 4 years before returning home to open Mongers' Provisions with his best friend, Will Werner.

FROM RABBI BLAIR NOSANWISCH
DIRECTOR OF SPIRITUAL CARE

On the second day of Pesach, we begin a process called “Sefirat HaOmer” meaning “Counting the Omer.” The Omer was a barley offering that was made in the Temple on the second day of Pesach. The Torah commands that after the Omer is offered, we count 49 days

(7 cycles of 7) until Shavuot, when we offer wheat.

This process, now metaphorical, was once an actual wait for the wheat crop to ripen. Barley was the crop for livestock, but wheat was prized for our own direct human consumption. So while Pesach marked the beginning of the first harvest, the barley harvest, it is 50 days later on Shavuot that we begin to enjoy the fruits of our labors in the first wheat harvest of the year.

The wisdom of our tradition lies in knowing that all transformations and transitions are a process.

What we initiated with Pesach is the intention to be free, but it is through the hard work of counting the Omer, of confronting our fears, anxieties, and uncertainties, that we can really emerge 50 days later ready to receive. At Shavuot we celebrate the communal experience of standing at Mt. Sinai together to receive the Torah.

I have been thinking about this teaching as Adat Shalom transitions from our mask mandate to a “mask optional” community. We have each had our own unique experience of this pandemic and, no doubt, we have each had many changing opinions and experiences through the last 2+ years of pandemic life. But change, no matter how much we are open to it, is hard.

The journey from the relative freedom of Pesach to the embodied freedom of Shavuot is unique to each human who lives it. For anyone who is finding themselves struggling with the question of how, or whether, to come back to shul in person because of the pandemic, please consider letting one of our clergy or staff know. We would love to talk to you and support you in your own journey. We have in our tradition the idea that Kol Yisrael arevim zeh bazeh (Talmud Bavli, Shavuot 39a) meaning that all Jewish people are responsible for one another. We have spent the pandemic keeping ourselves and one another safe by keeping our distance. What could it look like to draw close together again in ways that honor each of our needs for safety and security?

I hope we will have the opportunity to stand together at Mt. Sinai this Shavuot.

Our exodus from Egypt made us physically free, but our spiritual freedom takes place at Sinai - when we receive the Torah - on Shavuot. We learn in Pirkei Avot (6:2) “Only someone involved with Torah is free.”

We can pray on our own, and there are many mitzvot we can perform individually, but the true essence of Torah, of freedom, is when we join together to celebrate Torah and mitzvot. This is why we pray with a minyan. This is why we celebrate the holidays (chagim) as a community. This is why we give tzedekah collectively, to a communal campaign. When we do so, we give life to Torah. We celebrate our freedom by choice. The choices we make individually and collectively to connect with Torah and mitzvot, to actively participate in the life of synagogue and community, are what feed our souls. The more we do so, the louder our soul speaks to us.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for choosing Adat Shalom - we very much appreciate your support - especially during the past two years (plus).

Zoom has kept us together and extended our community to reach people all over North America, Israel, and even Mexico! We will continue to use Zoom to learn together safely (it's pretty awesome to learn together from home in the winter whether from MI or FL) - but we are grateful to be able to welcome everyone back into our building for services and programming. We look forward to many opportunities to meet outdoors during the summer as well.

“Why is the festival of Shavuot called ‘the time of the giving of our Torah’ and not the time of the receiving of our Torah? Because the giving of the Torah happened at one specified time, but the receiving of the Torah happens at every time and in every generation.” - Rabbi Meir Alter of Ger

THE LEARNING COMMUNITY

FROM DR. MELISSA SER
Director of Education
mser@adatshalom.org

As we wrap up our third year in the Better Together™ program, our students have had the wonderful opportunity to learn from our community members. This year, our participants read Greg Forbes' The First Thirty and The Silhouette Man, exploring the ways in which one young person can both make a difference in the lives of neighbors and develop ways to impact the world at large. At our final session on April 24, our students and community members had a chance to meet with the author via Zoom and ask questions about his writing process. It was a truly eye-opening experience, and for most of our participants it was the first time they'd been able to talk with the author of a book they had read.

This year, we are honored to have learned with Dr. Dennis Phillips, Charm Levine, Joel Gershenson, Phillip Arnold, Les Hubert, Larry Buch, Rena Tepman, Gene and Shelley Perlman, Roberta Wolf, Gloria Goff, and Reu'vein Rickman. If you are interested in participating for the 2022-2023 school year, please be in touch with Melissa Ser in the school office.

On Shabbat morning, April 23, we observed the last day of Passover and Yizkor as a community, recognizing our participants and essay winners from these past two years: Mallory Columbus (2021) and Yonatan Ser (2022), both seventh graders.

2021-2022 Better2Write Essay Contest

We are grateful to our team of judges, Rabbi Aaron Bergman, Hazzan Daniel Gross, Michael Wolf, and Kellie Yost, and to classroom teachers Ariel Stollman and Abbi Emerson. All essays were judged blind. Mallory used her award in the summer of 2021 to attend Six Points Sports Academy summer camp. Yonatan plans to use his in the summer of 2023 to attend the full session at Camp Young Judaea Midwest.

Excerpt from the 2022 winning essay, by 7th grader Yonatan Ser

"Working with Charm, I began to truly realize that seniors are not old people who are not caught up on anything and are stuck in the past. Rather, seniors are normal, funny, understanding people with valuable experiences to share with younger members of the community. These experiences can shape who we are, as well as who we will become. They can give us insight into the road ahead of us, and help us make better choices later in life, molding us into the best version of ourselves that we can be."

"Our elders pass on knowledge of their time. That knowledge is passed down and it accumulates from generation to generation since long before we can remember. When we become aware of our history, heritage and community, it is an undeniable fact that we are really, truly, Better Together."

FROM JODI GROSS

Director of Adult Learning & Youth Engagement
jgross@adatshalom.org

As the youth engagement programming season is concluding and before I start working with my dedicated team of youth leaders to plan next year's calendar of community building and fun events, it is my pleasure to share a few highlights from this year.

Kids had fun doing a nature scavenger hunt and exploring Hazon Detroit's Topsy Turvy bus, exploring principles of air and pressure with Mad Science, gaming in the T.G.I. Fun truck, laughing during the game night, and baking delicious treats during Kids Take Over the Kitchen.

By design, our teen (post-B'nai Mitzvah) engagement program is an a la carte menu of opportunities for teens to engage, connect, and learn with other teens, and develop meaningful relationships. Teens made a difference during their involvement in the Teen Volunteer Corps. They also enriched their minds during Nosh 'n' Drash. Teen Madrichim (teacher assistants) were positive Jewish role models to younger kids. Through hands-on classroom experiences and weekly trainings, madrichim also gained valuable life and professional skills.

Looking ahead to this summer, incoming 6th to 12th graders are invited to volunteer at the 5th Annual Youth United Interfaith Service Camp from Tuesday, August 9 to Thursday, August 11 at CARES community center in Farmington Hills. Teens will enjoy the variety of hands-on volunteer projects. Adat Shalom is one of the founding community partners of Youth United. Sammi Shapiro and I are part of the planning committee and look forward to volunteering with teens from Adat Shalom and their friends. More information will be sent via email.

At Adat Shalom, there are many opportunities for kids and teens to make lasting friendships, be part of an active youth community, contribute to our congregation, and make connections with our educators, youth professionals, and clergy. I look forward to continuing the important work I do with and for youth, the future leaders of Adat Shalom.

FROM SAMMI SHAPIRO

Assistant Director of Education & Youth Engagement
sshapiro@adatshalom.org

Let's talk about kugel. We all know and love kugel and you probably have your favorite variation: dairy, sweet, savory. But have you ever wondered about the history of kugel? I think about food origins probably more than I should. Thankfully, there's already a lot of research compiled on the subject and My Jewish Learning and the Nosher have a lot to share with us. In Yiddish, kugel translates into "sphere" referring to when dough was added into cholents and stews and then, later, on top of the stew. Now, the kugel is cooked completely on its own and is reminiscent of a bread pudding. The noodles are soaked in an eggy custard and can be sweet or savory. (<https://www.myjewishlearning.com/the-nosher/what-is-kugel/>).

What type of kugel does your family like? Is there something divisive (raisins!)? Should you have a kugel cook-off and answer these questions once and for all? I certainly don't think we will ever come to a consensus on what is the best kugel but we can explore different options together. What's your family's go-to kugel? Want to organize a kugel swap? I'll talk kugel or any type of food any day.

I believe that cooking helps us connect to each other and our intricate traditions. It's a great way to engage the whole family and talk about family history (especially if you have a family recipe!). I know for Shavuot this year, I'll be cooking my favorite dairy kugel with my son. My favorite recipe happens to come from my friend's Nana and is the most perfectly creamy, cheesy, and sweet kugel ever. Bonus—there are no raisins (but you could add them if you were so inclined)! This recipe comes together perfectly every time and is, in my opinion, the best.

Nana's Noodle Kugel

This recipe is shared with permission from the Banks/Lynn Family.

16 oz large egg noodles	2 cups small curd cottage cheese
4 eggs	1 teaspoon salt
½ cup milk	2 tablespoons sugar
¾ cup sour cream	1 bag butterscotch chips

Preheat oven to 350. Boil noodles until tender. Mix everything except the butterscotch together. Butter pyrex. Add noodle mixture. Sprinkle top with butterscotch chips. Cover with foil. Bake for 1 hour. Uncover for the last few minutes so top gets melted.

OUR ADAT COMMUNITY

SISTERHOOD

As we celebrated Passover we were reminded of how fragile freedom is. So many still do not have the freedom to celebrate their heritage, make their own choices, or live the life they were born to live. So many people are not free to be who they are and live in peace. We conclude every Passover with "Next Year In Jerusalem." Let us remember that everyone has their own personal "Jerusalem" and pray that they too will be there next year.

We ended March with our first in-person meeting in over two years. It was really great to see everyone. We discussed ideas we have and received some more wonderful ideas for the upcoming year.

May is a busy month for Sisterhood events. To start the month off we have a Rosh Chodesh study session on Monday, May 2, from 10-11 a.m. on Zoom. Rochelle Lieberman does a wonderful job organizing this program.

Sue Lutz and Marianne Pesick have worked hard all year making sure that book club stayed relevant. Our final Book Club for this season is May 12 on Zoom. We will be discussing The Hilltop, by Assaf Gavron.

We are very excited for The Challah Prince, Idan Chavasov, to come to Adat Shalom on May 15 from 12-2:30 p.m. He is going to share his own Challah recipe and show us unique ways to braid Challah. This is an interactive program and every participant will leave with their own braided Challah to bake at home. Space is limited.

Sisterhood is partnering with Rabbi Dan Horwitz for a pre-Shavuot program on May 24. The Remixed Beit Midrash: Cheese the Day will begin with learning where the tradition of eating dairy foods on Shavuot comes from, and will be followed by a cheese tasting facilitated by cheesemonger Zach Berg of Mongers' Provisions.

Rabbi Blair Nosanwisch, Director of Spiritual Care is bringing Feminist Torah Study to Sisterhood. It will be an in-person gathering for women, the second Wednesday of each month. The Torah will be discussed through the eyes of women, shedding a different light on stories you have heard many times. Phyllis Kessler is the Chair of this program.

On September 10, 2022 we will be sponsoring a Sisterhood Shabbat. Sisterhood will be leading the service and we need many of our Sisters to participate. There will be English as well as Hebrew parts. Please start thinking about where you feel comfortable and what you would like to do on this very special Shabbat.

We look forward to seeing you at these events!

MEN'S CLUB

A year ago, I spoke about how we had chronicled the Jewish Calendar through a video screen. So, it's wonderful that we're now able to meet in person once again. We took full advantage this spring.

At our DIY with Dad event in early March we had 30+ children and their parents participated and make their very own wooden grogger for Purim that can be used for years to come. Our thanks to Jaron Friedman for chairing and to Aaron Perlman for preparing materials.

The Daddy Daughter Dance returned indoors in March. Over 100 children, parents, and grandparents joined for the special night of dancing, food, and fun. Yasher Koach to Jaron Friedman, Rick Goren, Marty Kaye, and Mike Weil for co-chairing.

At the Men's pre-Passover seder in April, 40 men participated and enjoyed a delicious steak and scotch dinner. Our gratitude to our clergy, Rabbi's Bergman and Horwitz, and Hazzan Gross, for helping us to explore Passover traditions. And a shout out to Alan Chandross for organizing the event and to our grillers Steven Goldsmith and Jeff Tackel.

Many thanks to Mike Weil and our many volunteers for hosting the Men's Club Passover Shabbat Kiddush.

Join Rabbi Bergman, Hazzan Gross, Rabbi Horwitz, and the Men's Club at the Men's Shabbat Retreat on Saturday, May 7, at Adat Shalom. The interactive day will explore how we've been affected by the pandemic, what we've learned about ourselves and others, and how we can grow from the experience. Lunch is included. Please see the flyer for more information.

Thoughtful Thursdays continue with dates in May and June. Recent topics discussed by Rabbi Bergman included Ukrainian Jewry and Jewish views on the separation of church and state. Please see the ad below and look for an email with Zoom link information prior to each Thoughtful Thursday event.

The Intercongregational Men's Club Softball league starts in April with game dates through August. If you are interested in playing and joining the camaraderie and fun, please contact Michael Betman, noagold@sbcglobal.net / 248-470-8617.

This is your Men's Club and you belong here. Participating, volunteering, and sharing with others enriches lives. Please reach out to me if you would like to volunteer, have questions or comments, or would like more information.

The Daddy Daughter Dance was a huge hit. Thank you to the Men's Club for throwing a great party.

In addition, we embrace Michael Wolf's new role as Executive Director, certain to keep Adat Shalom in top form for years to come, and we see welcoming changes in our clergy. The addition of Rabbi Horwitz and Rabbi Nosanwisch will help us serve the congregation in new and interesting ways. I encourage you to thoroughly read this Voice to see all the amazing offerings of our three Rabbis- there is surely something for everyone to participate in!

It has been my honor and privilege to work with the clergy, staff, Board and congregation members at Adat Shalom. I also must say that I am forever grateful to my family for their constant love and support during this journey. My husband has been a pillar of strength for me as I took on this daunting role. Thank you, Bob, for being my rock, my sounding board (providing I didn't discuss specific Synagogue business!), and for being the most wonderful person in my life. My children have brought me into the 21st century, providing constant and calming assistance with crashing computers at critical times, with Zoom complications that of course were not caused by "operator error," and listening patiently to me practice speeches, or read over endless articles. They were always ready with a "how can I help?" My parents too provided so much love and support. They were tickled to see the photo of me in the Voice, and have been an inspiration throughout my life. I couldn't have picked better parents!

The next chapter in my life will bring as yet unknown experiences. But I am confident that I will soon be handing the gavel over to the very capable hands of Joyce Weingarten. Joyce has been an enormous resource for me during these past two years, and has reached out to help in ways too numerous to list here. I know how excited she is to take on this role and I believe our synagogue is going to be in a fabulous place with her presidency. I also thank everyone in our community for listening, reading, and participating in making Adat Shalom a vibrant home for all congregants.

Now I can't resist asking you, "What flavor of ice cream will you bring into the mix?" I anticipate great things and new ingredients!

SOCIAL ACTION IN ACTION

LIGHTHOUSE-SOUTH OAKLAND SHELTER HOUSING THE HOMELESS, June 26-July 2, 2022

The clients of Lighthouse continue to stay in a hotel and will not be returning to Adat Shalom this year for our scheduled week. However, meals and personal care items continue to be needed by the participants.

Lighthouse is providing housing for 120 which includes about 66 children. Adat Shalom's commitment to easing the struggles of the homeless is unchanged. We will provide lunches and dinners during our scheduled week. The program requires that the meal preparation be done in a commercial restaurant kitchen. The cost of providing meals for 120 people for a week will be significant. Please consider supporting this program by making a contribution to the Hillel Isaac and Rachel Maisel Memorial Housing the Homeless Fund. In addition to meals, we will collect hotel-sized toiletries and personal care items. Volunteers will be needed to deliver meals. Please contact Evva Hepner, 248-798-7673 or Debbie Cohen, 248.755.9940 for more information and to volunteer.

YAD EZRA, Sunday, April 3, 2022

Thank you to Jennifer Sobol and her sons Ezra and Ruben Sobol, and Enid and Frederic Waller for delivering Yad Ezra groceries to those unable to pick up at Yad Ezra. These homebound clients would not have access to kosher food without the volunteers delivering their groceries. The clients are so appreciative of this act of kindness. Watch The Voice and the weekly Adat Shalom emails for future dates.

RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE

Adat Shalom sponsored our semi-annual blood drive on March 6, 2022. It was a huge success, thanks to all who helped make it happen. A special and grateful thanks to the Red Cross staff, who worked tirelessly to keep a large drive running smoothly with minimal waiting time. I think most everyone got in and out within an hour! We had a completely full drive, and collected 43 pints of desperately needed blood. Thanks so much to the Adat Shalom staff, especially Marvin, who greets the Red Cross at 6:30 a.m. and sets up the tables, and chairs, and coffee! Thanks to our canteen volunteers, Joan Chernoff Epstein, Evva Hepner, Marcia Garland, and Kathy Halliburton. And a special thanks to all those who came out to donate blood. It is truly a special gift.

Sincerely,
Debby Portney, Ruth Zerin, and Marcy Colton

And a special thank you to Debby, Ruth, and Marcy who coordinate this project. Adat Shalom is very proud that we have safely and successfully held our scheduled blood drives throughout the pandemic.

"The highest form of wisdom is kindness."

Jeffrey Tackel is the new president of B'nai Brith Great Lakes Region.

The deadline to apply for the Jay Yoskowitz z"l Israel Scholarship Fund has been extended to June 15, 2022. The scholarship of $1500, will provide for a semester of study at a recognized Israeli university or at the Conservative Yeshiva. To apply, email Kellie Yost at kyost@adatshalom.org or call 248-851-5100 ext. 246.

Kellie Yost, administrative assistant to Rabbi Bergman and Hazzan Gross, received the Distinguished Service Award from Power Middle School.

For the 18th year, Rabbi Yoskowitz met with students from Dr. Keith Huey's World Religions class at Rochester University to teach about Judaism. The class also attended a Shabbat morning service and met with Rabbi Bergman for a tour of our synagogue. One student noted: "What impressed me the most from our conversation with Rabbi Yoskowitz is simple: his emphasis on the value of life. It sounded like this is fundamental to the way many Jews navigate life and I had not realized this before."

Adat Shalom Synagogue Tribute Funds

Adat Shalom's tribute funds provide support for our many important synagogue programs and services, which help to define us as an outstanding congregation.

We have set an $18 minimum price for tribute cards. Each greeting is individually prepared on a handsome card.

We are very grateful to members and friends who have consistently purchased tributes marking lifecycle events and other significant occasions, and we encourage your continued support.

To arrange for a tribute, please visit our website adatshalom.org/tributes or call the synagogue office at 248.851.5100. We will process your tribute and mail it promptly. Tributes received by the 1st of the month will appear in the following month's VOICE.

For information about how to establish a fund, please contact Executive Director Michael Wolf.

The wise and caring decisions we make today bring peace of mind and lessen the burdens of tomorrow.

ADAT SHALOM MEMORIAL PARK

For information about the purchase of cemetery plots please call Steven Goldsmith, 248.798.9995 or Denise Gallagher, 248.851.5100

The cemetery is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday - Friday, closed on Shabbat and Jewish holidays.

Joan Chernoff Epstein will pass the gavel to Joyce Berlin Weingarten at the Adat Shalom Synagogue annual meeting and memorial service.

Immediately following, you are invited to join us for s'mores at a synagogue bonfire in celebration of Lag B'Omer (weather permitting).

All congregants are invited to attend Adat Shalom's annual meeting and election of officers and trustees on Wednesday evening, May 18, 2022 at 7:30 p.m. This is an opportunity for you to learn more about the offerings and accomplishments of our synagogue. We will review our financial situation and also hold our annual Memorial Service.

The nominating committee has submitted the following slate for 2022/2023:

OFFICERS:

President . . . . . Joyce A. Berlin Weingarten
First Vice President . . . . . Joe Wener
Vice President . . . . . Jerome Pesick
Secretary . . . . . Maria Pacis-Biederman
Treasurer . . . . . Jackie Issner

Executive committee at large:

Jenny Sobol . . . . . (2023)
Sandy Rosen . . . . . (2024)
Danny Kaufman . . . . . (2025)

BOARD OF TRUSTEES: 3 year term

Abby Epstein . . . . . (2025)
Jaron Friedman . . . . . (2025)
Lon Zaback . . . . . (2025)

MEMORIAL PARK: 3 year term

Neal Zalenko . . . . . (2025)

The By-Laws permit additional candidates for any office to be nominated by a petition signed by 25 members in good standing. The petition must be filed with the secretary of the congregation (by filing in the synagogue office during regular business hours) no later than the close of business on Tuesday, May 10, 2022. The candidate must consent to placing their name in nomination. As of this date, no petitions have been filed.

Sincerely,

Joan Chernoff Epstein, President

Jerome Pesick, Secretary

Dr. Sanford Vieder, Chairperson of the Nominating Committee
