*THE NEW YEAR AND NEW BEGINNINGS:

As we bid farewell to the year 2018, we reflect upon many things that have transpired over the previous 12 months, while we look forward to fresh beginnings moving into 2019. One cannot help but be mindful of some of the unpleasant things which we have recently experienced. The tragedy in Pittsburgh is still fresh in our minds and leads our focus toward the rising tide of anti-Semitism and the overall security for the Jewish people not only in Israel, but now in America too. Rest assured, at Adat Shalom we have the full cooperation of the resources of the Federation as well as the Farmington Hills Police Department. There are many key individuals who have contributed their own personal time to look at the overall security of our beautiful building to assure that our members feel safe when they are at the synagogue. Perhaps now more than ever, we must reaffirm our affiliations together and through the roots of our Jewish organizations, including Adat Shalom!

We would also be remiss not to reflect upon the wonderful things that have transpired over the past year as well. We embarked upon our 75th anniversary with an incredible and memorable kick off weekend. Our membership is stable and we look forward to bolstering our financial stability for the next 75

*THE KARATE KID EFFECT

In honor of our son Maxim's upcoming Bar Mitzvah, I wanted to devote this article to this special time in our lives. As a cantor, B'nai Mitzvah are a constant in my life. Now, experiencing one as a parent, my appreciation of this time-honored tradition has taken on far greater significance.

I oversee Adat Shalom's B'nai Mitzvah tutoring program and work closely with our religious school staff to ensure that our students and families receive an all-encompassing educational experience leading up to this rite of passage. The individual tutoring process – learning how to chant the Torah and Haftarah utilizing the different trope (cantillation systems) – is one of the most complicated concepts a young student encounters in their educational journey, both Judaic and secular. It can be a challenging learning experience, but the hard work pays off and the students learn a skill that will allow them to contribute to synagogue life for the rest of their lives.

An analogy I frequently use when teaching our B'nai Mitzvah students and their families comes from the 1984 film "Karate Kid." In order to defend himself from bullies, Daniel (Ralph Macchio, not me) wants to learn karate from an elderly karate master, Mr. Miyagi. Welcomed into Mr. Miyagi's home, Daniel is excited to begin his studies, but the next thing he knows, Miyagi has him doing taxing chores all around his house (waxing the cars, sanding the floor, painting the fence). Daniel understandably becomes frustrated with the tedious process. Eventually, Miyagi tells Daniel that he is finally ready. Without realizing it, Daniel has learned all of the necessary technical skills to succeed in karate because of his arduous work, all of which previously seemed pointless to him.

*LEARNING FROM THE WORLD
GOD CREATED

The world God created provides food and shelter, but also the spiritual wisdom we need to live our lives meaningfully. Every aspect of creation has the potential to teach us a valuable lesson. We are obligated to appreciate and protect nature in order for future generations to benefit from these teachings.

The holiday of Tu B'Shvat, which is on January 21 this year, is a reminder of our obligation to be partners with God in making sure that the world thrives for many years to come.

Here are some stories and prayers in honor of the holiday.

Rabbi Nachman of Bratslav

Master of the Universe, grant me the ability to be alone;

May it be my custom to go outdoors each day

Among the trees and grass — among all growing things

And there may I be alone and enter into prayer,

To talk with the One to whom I belong.

May I express there everything in my heart.

And may all the foliage of the field, all grasses, trees and plants

Awake at my coming, to send the powers of their life into the words of my prayer

So that my prayer and speech are made whole

Through the life and spirit of all growing things,

Which are made as one by their transcendent Source.

May I then pour out the words of my heart

Before your Presence like water, O God,

And lift up my hands to You in worship, on my behalf, and that of my children!

*BETTER TO LIGHT A MATCH THAN CURSE THE DARKNESS

On the first night of Chanukah this year, a group of 29 Adat Shalom teenagers and four staff members, myself included, were traveling back from New York City to Detroit. Thanks to an anonymous donor, the teens had been able to travel to New York at an affordable cost and learn together at the Museum of Jewish Heritage, the 9/11 Memorial & Museum, the American Museum of Natural History, and the Tenement Museum. The theme of our trip was "Meeting Hate with Humanity" and we saw many examples of this throughout the trip. We also enjoyed a deeply meaningful Shabbat, praying at two very different, yet both incredibly vibrant, synagogues on the Upper West Side. At synagogue on Saturday morning, I spoke with a man whose wife was killed on 9/11 in the second tower. I was amazed at the way he spoke of his loss. He told me that her last message to him said, "They have told us it is safer to re-enter the tower than to be outside with all the falling debris, so I am going back in. I'll be at my desk working and look forward to talking to you soon." She left him the message just three minutes before the second plane hit three floors above where she was working at her desk. The man then told me, "My wife and 2,605 people Parashat Yitro includes the Ten Commandments (Exodus 20:1-15), arguably the most famous section of the entire Tanakh. Tradition teaches that at the moment God revealed the commandments to Moshe, the entire world was silent and still. The first word God utters is "Anokhi," "I" and it begins with the silent letter alef. It may seem strange that God begins the most important part of the Torah with silence. But it is the silence of the initial alef that forces us to listen closely to God's words.

One of the most beautiful aspects of our tradition's understanding of the revelation at Sinai is that it was not limited only to those present. Every one of us stands at Sinai when we study Torah and when we live Torah. If the revelation were for the select few that were actually physically present at the base of Mt. Sinai, Judaism would have died out a long time ago. Because the possibility to experience revelation has never ceased our religious tradition has endured. It is this ongoing revelation that has granted the Jewish people an eternal future.

Week by week, parasha by parasha, we read through the entire Torah over the course of a year. And then, when we finish, what do we do? We start the process all over again. What a curious custom. Why do we bother to read the same words every year? At some point don't we know what the Torah says? What we realize, of course, is that the words of the Torah do not change. We do.

Our experiences shape our lives and our understanding. Every time we learn something new and every time we have some new insight, we are experiencing revelation. A new perspective and new understanding is the result of our personal experience of God's revelation.

Seudah Shelishit – January 12 between Minchah and Maariv.

As the sky stays lighter...starting on Monday, February 4, we will be switching the evening minyan back to 6:00 P.M. Morning remains at 7:30 A.M. during the weekdays and 8:30 A.M. on Sundays. Hope to see you!

KIDDUSH LUNCHEON TO FOLLOW
DANIEL & LAUREN GROSS

Thank You to the Friends of the IDF

This past February we had the wonderful experience of going to Israel with a terrific group from Adat Shalom Synagogue led by Rabbi Aaron and Ruth Bergman. It was a fantastic trip which I highly recommend for anyone who has traveled to Israel or has never had the opportunity. There is truly nothing like it.

Among the many highlights, one that stands out above all was our opportunity to visit the IDF 75th Battalion of the Armored Brigade base near the Lebanon border, arranged by the Friends of the IDF Michigan Chapter. We spent an afternoon with the very talented young men and women who put their lives at risk daily defending the State of Israel, and we were able to achieve a better understanding of the many dangers and challenges they face. We had the opportunity of visiting with soldiers and learning much about their daily lives on the base and were afforded time for Q&A with army officers and soldiers. Afterward we were shown the latest and greatest technology in their tanks and maneuvers and a special rare opportunity of seeing their doctors and medics in an actual medical emergency exercise!

We would like to thank the IDF for their hospitality and for everything they do and are pleased to make possible a gift of $3,000 to the Friends of the IDF for the construction of a much needed mobile "leisure corner," a place for the soldiers to take a break from their everyday surroundings, relax and recharge their batteries during their "down time" on the base. The conditions on the base are sparse, to say the least, and this will provide them with a place they can feel at home and just chill in a comfortable casual setting to take their minds off of the everyday dangers they face.

Kol Hakavod to the IDF, the Friends of the IDF, and a special thanks to Rabbi Aaron and Ruth Bergman and everyone in our group for their contribution in making this project a reality.

Mickey Levin

We received a note of thanks from NYT bestselling author Edwin Black following his visit to Detroit. In it he stated, "The next day, October 10, I undertook back-to-back sessions at Adat Shalom. The first was for the kids at the shul's school. I found them exceptionally bright, highly informed, and seemingly a cadre waiting to propel our next leadership ranks. Adat Shalom should be proud of its product—our next generation.

After a short break, I launched a two-hour lecture Israel and International Law--The Historical Underpinnings, already presented around the world, from Bar Ilan University in Tel Aviv to UC Santa Rose in Northern California and many points in between. The stunning response and audience participation through stand-up readings was nothing less than exciting. I knew I was at home with an audience eager to nail down the specifics. Every seat was taken in the chapel, and the chemistry with the audience was pure exhilaration. I thank first and foremost my friend Rabbi Aaron Bergman who made time in between an unforgiving itinerary that began in California the day before and ended in Israel the next morning. Rabbi Bergman – as I stated – is a mensch among menschen and a moral light for us. We have worked together on more than one appearance this year, and I hope to do more. Jodi Gross of the shul was another in a string of event perfectionists attending to every detail over scores of emails and calls. Thank you Adat Shalom."

Family Education programs

of Jeanette & Oscar Cook

We recently held our first Shabbat Mini Minyan. This service has held many names yet maintains its essence. Shabbat Mini Minyan is a place where families can join Hazz'n Dan and enjoy the blessing of Shabbat through songs and prayers in a small environment and with a community of young families. This is intended for young children while also providing parents with a sincere Shabbat experience. Wrapped up with a mini Kiddush, it is also a nice way to meet and visit with families.

The traditional synagogue service takes place in the sanctuary and will be in full swing when Mini Minyan begins and will continue after it concludes. All families are welcome at all times. There is a basket in the back of the sanctuary with books and Shabbat-friendly toys, such as stuffed Torahs, for children to share while attending the service. Of course, you are always welcome to bring your own. We look forward to seeing you.

L'Shalom,
Debi

YOUTH ENGAGEMENT

Nosh & Drash Update:

When it's cold outside during the winter months, Adat Shalom's Nosh & Drash students still come together every week to learn, grow, and give back to the community. In December, in addition to exploring personal values that connected with the idea of Chanukah (and learning that there's way more to the story of Chanukah than oil and dreidels), students took some time to create blankets for Project Night Night, which provides homeless children with some of the comforts that our students take for granted. We'll be continuing to explore our personal values in January and February with our guest, Jackie Issner, who will co-lead a few sessions with our students on how to figure out what they stand for, and how best to express themselves. A program geared to parents of teens will follow (watch your email!)

Religious School Update:

Students in grades 3-6 have been enjoying taking part in elective activities each week, called chuggim. Chuggim have been in such areas as Tikkun Olam (raising money for Wigs4Kids and the White Wolf Sanctuary), drama (they wrote their own skit, called the Time Turning Torah!), choir, drumming, modern Hebrew, and art.

Students in grades PreK through 2 have been learning even more modern Hebrew through an amazing immersion experience each week, and we love hearing children speaking Hebrew and recognizing words in prayers from their classroom vocabulary!

Mrs. Mania Salinger shared with our 7th graders her experience of survival as a young woman during the Holocaust.

Kids' Afternoon of Fun

Thanks to a generous donor family, the amazing Teen Trip to NYC was possible. The trip was one of the many opportunities for teens to continue to strengthen their connections to Adat Shalom, as well as build a community among themselves. The teens shared...

I enjoyed going to so many different museums and learning so many things about our history in such a fun setting. I also enjoyed being with my friends and exploring a new city. - Megan Diskin, Junior

I originally was hesitant about attending the trip, but now I couldn't be happier that I attended it. I loved experiencing the religious aspect of NYC at different synagogues and exploring the museums. It gave me a chance to get to know more people in my community and it has encouraged me to continue helping at Adat Shalom and going to Nosh & Drash. This was a once in a lifetime experience that I will never forget. Thank you! - Anonymous

I really liked visiting the 9/11 Memorial & Museum. It taught me a lot about what happened in the past. - Shane Jacobson, Sophomore

I am filled with gratitude as I was able to go on this trip, which was amazing. This experience is going to stay with me for my entire life. Thank you to the trip leaders and the donor family. - Anonymous

CONGREGATION-WIDE VOLUNTEER DAY

Sunday, January 20, 2019, 11 A.M. - 1 P.M.

Once again, we will participate in Volunteer Day. Our activity will be to make 60 lunches and personal hygiene kits for Hope Hospitality and Warming Center. The children from our school will assemble the lunches and hygiene kits but we need help supervising the station. Also, we need a volunteer to take the items to the Center which is located in Pontiac. Can you help?

Delivering groceries to homebound Yad Ezra recipients is a great way to spend a couple of hours with the whole family. These clients have no transportation to pick up their groceries. Please consider helping on this morning. It's really simple; pick up the pre-packaged groceries, and the directions to 2-3 clients. They are usually grouped together and in the nearby area. If you can help, call Evva at 248.798.7673.

SHOES TO SHARE - NCJW / MI

Thank you to everyone who brought in your gently-used shoes to be shared in the community. Thank you to Ruth Zerlin for schlepping the bags. Our box runneth over and required multiple trips to be dropped off. Because of your generosity, we were part of the largest collection to date - 5,000 pairs of shoes were collected and distributed to 23 agencies in Oakland and Wayne Counties. Start saving those shoes for next year's shoe drive.

We are still looking for two separate volunteer coordinators for the Yad Ezra deliveries and Ronald McDonald House dinners. If interested, please call me for more details. We could really use your help!

Sisterhood

WHAT IF.....there was not a Sisterhood at Adat Shalom?

Where would you purchase your tallitot and kippot, your B'nai Mitzvah or holiday gifts, or pick up that one piece of Judaica to complete your holiday table? There would not be a Gift Shop to brighten our foyer!

Without the Sunday morning Knitting Circle, there would be no neonatal caps and baby hats, no scarves and hats for school children and the homeless, no lap blankets for Rabbi Shere to distribute on hospital visits or soft knitted inserts for cancer survivors.

Would the B'nai Mitzvah still receive a gift on the bimah to celebrate their simcha? Would there still be a scholarship to send young students to a Jewish camp or study program?

What about community and social programs? Sisterhood sponsors and participates in Jewish Book Fair, Rosh Chodesh Study, Health and Wellness programs and Spring Outreach. What would Adat Shalom's role be in the future of these programs? Would Adat Shalom still have a Honey or Flower fundraiser each year?

Sisterhood's greatest responsibility is Shabbat. There would be no flowers on the bimah for holidays and simchas, and there would no longer be a beautiful Kiddush following Shabbat morning services since Sisterhood bills, organizes, cooks and serves the Kiddush.

It is our belief that Sisterhood is the heart of Adat Shalom and it is the responsibility of every member of the synagogue to keep that heartbeat strong by financially supporting it. You can do that by contributing to the Kiddush Fund, and if you are female, by paying your Sisterhood dues annually. Whether you participate in our programs and events or not, Adat Shalom and the Sisterhood appreciate your support. Invest in the future of Sisterhood!

MEN'S CLUB MUSINGS... By JOEY LEBOVIC

I'm pleased to share that our Men's Club membership continues to exceed 100 individuals. It's never too late to join and Membership VP David Shevrin (davidshevrin@yahoo.com) can answer questions you may have about our minimal dues structure. We're a friendly crowd I think you'll enjoy socializing with so check us out. Listed below are a few great indoor events for the cold Michigan winter.

Join us after minyan or religious school drop-off for Bagels with Bergman on January 13 at 9:30 A.M. Rabbi Bergman will share his insights and lead a discussion on "The Rise of Anti-Semitism."

Are you ready for some play off football? Our annual Football Watching Party is on January 20 at 3:30 P.M. Gather with friends and a large TV to argue sports while enjoying a game the Lions have a slim chance to participate in. See our latest flyer for details.

On Super Bowl Sunday, February 3 at 8 A.M., we participate with conservative congregations globally in World Wide Wrap XIX. Join us before daily minyan when Michael Wolf explains the customs and traditions of laying tefillin. Extra tefillin will be available to use. This year's slogan is "We're in it for the Tie."

Be a part of our large turnout for the 87th Annual Inter-Congregational Men's Club Dinner on Tuesday February 12, 2019, at Temple Israel, one of the oldest and largest events of its kind in North America. This dinner is a gathering of Jewish men from synagogues/temples in metropolitan Detroit and the surrounding region. It brings together all denominations for an evening of friendship and social interaction. Our speaker is Professor Howard Lupovitch, WSU Associate Professor of History and Director of the Cohn-Haddow Center for Judaic Studies.

As always, please feel free to contact me at jlebovic@ameritech.net with any questions. I look forward to meeting you at one of our upcoming events.

RABBI SHERE

were killed in the towers. However, what people rarely remember is that approximately 15,000 were safely evacuated from the towers." While the man was clearly devastated that his wife wasn't among those who survived, he said that what has kept him going in the interim seventeen years is focusing on the brave individuals who risked and sometimes lost their lives in order to save the lives of others. He focuses on the fact that if the attacks had happened later in the day, the towers would have had thousands more people in them. Each day he chooses to focus on human dignity rather than human depravity. He chooses to honor his wife's legacy by creating a world where light eclipses darkness and love stamps out hate. The word Chanukah means dedication — culminating our trip on the first night of Chanukah, the group dedicated ourselves to doing the same.

This is often the case with the Bar/Bat Mitzvah preparation process. Learning and applying trope to the ancient words of our tradition often seem irrelevant to B'nai Mitzvah students in this day and age. However, when the "big day" has arrived and it's time to chant from the bimah in front of family, friends and the congregation, the inevitable emotions of accomplishment and pride our B'nai Mitzvah students feel are evident and visible on their faces.

Seeing my son prepare for his Bar Mitzvah has been very special. It was 29 years ago, immediately after my Bar Mitzvah service, that Rabbi Ephraim Zimand (z"l) said to me, "You know, Daniel, you are very good at this and have a gift for chanting. I'd love to see you do it again in the future." It was with pride, years later, that I was able to inform Rabbi Zimand of my decision to pursue the cantorate, and prouder still to have the opportunity to pass on the tradition of chanting trope to my firstborn son and countless others.

Please join Lauren and me as we celebrate our son's Bar Mitzvah on Shabbat morning, February 2, 2019.

A story of Rav Kook

Once when Rav Kook was walking in the fields, lost deep in thought, the young student with him absentmindedly plucked a leaf off of a branch. Rav Kook was visibly shaken by this act and, turning to his companion he said gently, "Believe me when I tell you that I never simply pluck a leaf or a blade of grass or any living thing unless I have to. Every part of the vegetable world is singing a song and breathing forth a secret of divine mystery of the creation."

Blessing on the first blossoming fruit tree seen in spring

Blessed are you, our God, who left nothing out of this world, and created in it good creatures and good trees, so humankind could benefit from them.

Midrash Kohelet Raba 7:28:

When the Holy One of Blessing created the first human He took him and showed him all the trees of the Garden of Eden and said to him 'See My works, how beautiful and praiseworthy they are. And everything that I created, I created it for you. Be careful not to spoil or destroy My world – for if you do, there will be nobody after you to repair it.'

years with our endowment campaign that will kick off in the spring of 2019. There have been significant plant improvements within the building which have greatly enhanced our facility's appearance and functionality. Our incredible clergy team has been offered and accepted updated long-term contracts and they continue to work hard creating unique educational and spiritual programs for our members. Our Sisterhood and Men's Club affiliates have created a robust year of programming, which I encourage everybody to take advantage of. As I have said so many times before, there is something for everybody at Adat Shalom!

On a personal level, while my family has endured some difficult times and health challenges, I remain grateful for the good fortunes that we have. I am very appreciative of all of the support that I have received through the initial months of my presidency at Adat Shalom. So on behalf of the entire extended Vieder family, including my wife Carol, my children Meryl and Brandon, Alex and Nikolas, we extend our heartfelt thanks and wishes for a very happy, healthy and prosperous New Year to all of you!

L'Shalom,

Sandy
