FROM THE PRESIDENT, JOAN CHERNOFF EPSTEIN

During the secular holiday on July 4th we were thinking of freedom and of independence- both our own and that of our country. At the same time, Adat Shalom came together at our Kabbalat service to welcome Rabbi Daniel Horwitz and Rabbi Blair

Nosanwisch. It was a beautiful evening with Hazzan Gross and Rabbi Bergman at the helm, Rabbis Horwitz and Nosanwisch participating, accompanied by Marty Liebman and Dan Shere. It was a great start to the season. The celebration continued the very next day at Shabbat services when we honored Rabbi Bergman's 13th anniversary of leading us with his characteristic strength, intelligence and vision, along a journey of many unexpected twists and turns. It was a wonderful in-person celebration. Rabbi Bergman did a spectacular job of singing the Haftorah and it was even more special to feel and see the joy of those in attendance. We all needed that human connection!

Many of you requested a copy of my remarks that day, so you will find them below, and my comments for this article brief, but first I want to once again express my gratitude for our leadership - both clerical and lay - who have kept us going and thriving in these most challenging times. Last year we were scrambling to safely celebrate the holidays in unfamiliar ways. Now we have come so far! We are back to gathering together, feeling more comfortable in our new routines, keeping our own health and the health of those around us foremost in our minds. We as a community are knit together through the herculean efforts of our leadership and staff, forming a resilient fabric of congregants.

My remarks at the celebration on July 2, 2021....

Jewish philosopher Martin Buber once said:

"I do not accept any absolute formulas for living.

No preconceived code can see ahead to everything that can happen in a man's life.

As we live, we grow, and our beliefs change. So, I think we should live with this constant discovery.

We should be open to the adventure in heightened awareness of living.

We should stake our whole existence on our willingness to explore and experience."

This quote reminds me of our own Rabbi Aaron Bergman - open to the adventure of leading us at Adat Shalom. He seems eager to explore and experience what life brings him. While on this roller coaster of a ride we have been on, through all the steep climbs upward, through the twists and turns and rapid descents, I never heard the shrieks from him that many of us were feeling inside. Throughout, he has remained steady and calm, and seemed to have a sixth sense about what obstacle was around the next bend. That says a lot about the kind of man he is: everything he has done has come from the heart, and it's all been for the benefit of the congregation.

This week's Torah reading of Parashat Pinchas explains a change in property inheritance after the five daughters of Zelophehad, lacking any brothers, successfully petitioned to inherit their father's apportionment. Moses related this in a way which demonstrated fairness, openness, and compassion. I cannot help but notice the similarity to our own Rabbi Bergman, who himself has four daughters, although not five! His leadership clearly embodies these same admirable qualities.

FROM RABBI AARON BERGMAN

Most Jewish Holidays begin in the middle of the month when the moon is full and bright. Rosh Hashanah is the only holiday that begins on the new moon when it is only a sliver in the sky and the night is at its darkest. The darkness is real and can be frightening, but it is not all that there is. Judaism is about finding light when it is dark and affirming life when we are afraid and uncertain.

We always believe that no matter what, there is still good in the world, even if it is hidden. It is our responsibility, our destiny, and our privilege to reveal it for ourselves and for the whole world. We do not count our year by a significant moment in Jewish history or event in the lives of one of our ancestors, but by the creation of the whole world.

One of the most important words in our vocabulary is tikvah, hope. Jewish hope is faith that the world can be better, if we partner with God in making it that way. Hope is our strength. It is our refusal to give in to despair and fear. We have suffered so much as a people, but because we have held on to hope, we have accomplished so much and have flourished even in the worst of times.

We say modeh/modah ani every single morning, beginning our day with gratitude that we have been given another chance at making the world better in our own unique way. That is a statement of hope and faith. We don't know what our day will be, but we are grateful for the opportunity to find out.

No wonder that Hatikvah, The Hope, is the national anthem of Israel. To sing of hope after the Holocaust is an extraordinary and powerful affirmation of life.

Leonard Cohen explained he wrote "Hallelujah" because, "I wanted to stand with those who clearly see God's holy broken world for what it is, and still find the courage or the heart to praise it. You don't always get what you want. You're not always up for the challenge. But in this case — it was given to me. For which I am deeply grateful."

None of us really know what will happen in the coming year, but I do know that as a people we will face it with hope and gratitude.

May we have lives of sweetness, health and joy and may we find the strength and courage to help heal God's holy broken world.

FROM HAZZAN DANIEL GROSS PUTTING THE FAST IN FASTING

My first observance of a fast was on the Yom Kippur before my Bar Mitzvah, and my inquisitive mind was hung up on a peculiar detail — why was it called “fasting”? Fasting definitely does not go by very fast and I would quip that it should be called “slowing.” It turns out that the word “fasting” comes from the Old English word fæstan: to abstain from food, especially as a religious duty. It is further derived from an older Germanic meaning of holding oneself firmly in control (as in “to hold fast.”)

So why do we fast on Yom Kippur? The requirement to fast on this holiday is biblical in origin, as stated in the Torah (Numbers 29:7), “On the tenth day of the same seventh month you shall observe a sacred occasion when you shall afflict your souls. You shall do no work.” Yom Kippur occurs on the tenth day of the seventh Hebrew month, Tishrei. Ancient sages physicalized self-imposed “soul affliction” by fully abstaining from food and water. Soul affliction is a direct and rather harsh translation of the Hebrew phrase v’initem et nafshoteichem. If we dig a little deeper to the root of v’initem, we find the word anah, which means to respond or react. In my mind, the concept of responding to our souls (to address spiritual needs) is much more intriguing and profound than the view of afflicting our souls (with physical punishment).

Yom Kippur is my favorite holiday. There is a palpable and indescribable spiritual aura that envelops me beginning before Kol Nidre and which increases through the conclusion of Ne’ilah. Fasting adds an introspective dimension of holiness and focus for me. Because I’m so involved in the service, the time seems to go by quickly. The fasting itself does not pose that much of a challenge for me anymore, unlike when I was a young teen. (As a sidenote, people frequently ask how I am able to sing for so long without water. The body is a remarkable, miraculous thing and the salivary system provides enough hydration to sing for long periods of time.) I can empathize, however, with those who find fasting very difficult and therefore struggle with aspects of Yom Kippur. Whether you are participating in shul during the holiday service or resting at home, the time may not necessarily fly by. Perhaps finding ways to engross yourself in the service will help pass the time away. Whether it is scrutinizing the Hebrew words of a prayer, finding meaning in an English translation or any of the various readings and interpretations in the machzor, or simply singing along, there are a number of different ways to focus your mind on the beauty and spirituality that Yom Kippur has to offer, and take the focus off your immediate physicality.

The unique greeting exchanged on Yom Kippur is Tzom Kal which means “have an easy fast.” I hope that if you are fasting, that it does go by fast. After all, time flies when you’re having fun, and Yom Kippur should be viewed as a meaningful and beautiful holiday of self-reflection and renewal. My best wishes to you for a happy and healthy 5782.

Tzom Kal v’Shanah Tovah!

FROM RABBI DANIEL S. HORWITZ

When's the last time you did something unabashedly, publicly Jewish? Perhaps it was a Walk for Israel? Attending the recent rally against anti-Semitism in DC? Wearing a kippah out in public?

For me, it was participating a few weeks ago in the ceremony and celebration of dedicating a new Sefer Torah in honor of my late grandparents.

To participate in the festivities, Jonah (my eldest) and I picked up my brother Adam and his eldest Benjamin from their home in Ann Arbor, and together we made the drive down to Cincinnati, where my Uncle and Aunt (who took the lead on the project) live. First of all - I have no idea how parents (like mine) did road trips with kids before built-in DVD players were a thing. And second of all, it was incredibly special to get some quality brother/cousin time after a Covid year that had us overwhelmingly apart.

So - we get to Cincinnati, get to spend a bit of quality time with our extended family, and then it's show time: a literal parade as the new Torah scroll was danced (with a couple of other scrolls that had been updated - smudges are a no-no when it comes to Torahs being deemed kosher!), under a chuppah, on a 2-mile route, on main public streets that had been blocked off for the occasion (with a significant police presence). And, I should note, most of the folks who were there celebrating with us happened to be Orthodox meaning there were black hats, kippot, tzitzit and the like proudly on display. Add to it a live piano player making Jewish music on a trailer through a massive mobile amplification system while being pulled by a pickup truck at the front of the group, and there could be no doubt that this was a Jewish celebration.

I found myself at times wondering what non-participants might be thinking – particularly if we had cut off their quickest route home. Would it be just another reason for them to hate the Jews? I found myself grateful for the police presence, while also realizing that there are Jews of color for whom police may not serve as a symbol of protection and care as they do for me. I found myself shvitzing, as it was literally 94 degrees out. And I found myself crying, as after almost a year and a half of comparative isolation due to Covid, coupled with a notable spike in anti-Semitic hate crimes globally, I had the chance to be in a large and diverse group of Jews, proudly celebrating our heritage and Torah in public, dancing and singing, and to share the experience with Jonah and family... knowing that my late grandparents surely were crying tears of joy, exhaustion, anxiety and love along with me.

Rabbi Dan and his son Jonah.

FROM RABBI BLAIR NOSANWISCH
DIRECTOR OF SPIRITUAL CARE
LEARNING SOMETHING NEW

The first time I ever said/read/prayed the Amidah (the 18 blessings at the center of Jewish daily prayer) was Yom Kippur 2013, at the age of 28. I had spent much of my early life feeling like I didn't really know what it meant to be a Jew. When I was 23 I lived on a Jewish farm at a Jewish retreat center in Connecticut and the experience was so transformative, I decided for the first time that I wanted to take ownership of my Jewish identity. It still took five years from that decision to arrive at a moment when I was able to form the question, "How do I do this? How do I say the Amidah?" Thankfully I had a friend whom I trusted with my question. At the time, I'd come to so love being a Jew, but felt ashamed that I didn't know "how to Jew." I spent that Yom Kippur sounding out each letter of the Amidah (which I later learned was longer on Yom Kippur than any other time of year!). It was a painstaking experience, but also one of the more powerful and meaningful things I'd ever done.

I don't take for granted that everyone has the same desires for their Jewish lives. For me, learning how to Jew, by which I mean learning to feel like the owner and author of my own Jewishness, was about growing my knowledge of Jewish history (particularly American Jewish histories), increasing my Hebrew literacy, beginning to live the cycles and rhythms of the Jewish calendar, and taking on certain day-to-day practices like Kashrut and Shabbat. But from the beginning of my journey, I remained committed to both Judaism and modernity.

In the coming months, I'll be offering a series of classes called "How to Jew." This series isn't meant so much as a beginner's course in Judaism, but rather as a space for those who choose to join me to work out your own questions about your Jewish lives as full, complex human beings. We will cover a range of topics that speak to core Jewish practices, asking what values they offer, how they push us and nurture us into a greater sense of being. I look forward to learning and growing with you in this new year!

Rabbi Nosanwisch led Shabbat Shalom Hey! on August 7. Enthusiastic participants included her children Honi and Erev Willow.

FROM MICHAEL WOLF
DIRECTOR OF SPIRITUALITY AND OUTREACH

It has been told that whenever Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel gave an evening lecture, he would begin by telling the audience, "Ladies and gentlemen, a great miracle just happened!" People would stop to listen very carefully, wondering: what miracle happened?

Why didn't we see it? Then Heschel would continue, "a great miracle just happened: the sun went down!" Some people would laugh. Some would shake their heads at this crazy rabbi. Others remained puzzled about what he meant - then Heschel would begin to talk about how a religious person sees the world.

Miracles happen all the time, Heschel taught, amazing things, magnificent things are happening all around us. But most of us don't notice. We have learned how to ignore them.

We normally think that miracles are events that break the laws of nature - seas split, plagues that fall from the sky, or sticks that turn into snakes. Heschel understood that the most remarkable things are not these rare and unusual events, but the normal, regular, everyday things that we never notice. How can normal things be miracles? It's all in how we look at them.

Heschel says the religious person notices the miracles - the religious person stops and wonders at the beauty of a sunset, the power of a thunderstorm, and the kindness of a stranger. The opposite of being religious, according to Heschel, isn't a person who doesn't believe in God, but a person who doesn't notice all the amazing things around us. The opposite of being religious is being bored. Moments we have when we feel God close to us - they can happen all the time according to Heschel - the problem is that we're distracted - we're too busy...

Prayer is a way to learn how to stop and notice the miracles around us. Prayer is a way to have a moment with God. Prayer isn't about asking for things - it's a way to learn mindfulness - how to pay attention to the miracles that are all around us.

The purpose of prayer isn't to change God. The purpose of prayer is to change us. The purpose of prayer is to make us aware of the miracles around us and the moments of God's closeness waiting for us each day.

Betsy and I wish you and your families a happy, healthy, sweet, and meaningful New Year!

Michael participated in our Elul Intentions Shofar Blast-a-Day.

Adat Shalom Synagogue High Holy Day Services

We are grateful to everyone in the incredible Adat Shalom community for staying connected during one of the most challenging times in recent history. It says so much about who we are, and why synagogues are essential to the future of the Jewish people.

We are always delighted to get together with you for the holidays, and never more so than this year, when we can be together in person. We know that the pandemic is not over, and we will continue to take precautions.

As in previous years, there will be two parallel services, one in the sanctuary and the other in the social hall. The services themselves will be largely as they have been, but there will be a few differences. The first, and most important, is that we have added two stellar rabbis to our team, Rabbi Dan Horwitz and Rabbi Blair Nosanwisch, Director of Spiritual Care, both of whom will be facilitating one of the services. We will have the family services in the afternoon, so that all of the clergy can participate. For safety reasons, the mixed choir and men's choir will not be participating in this year's services. Hazzan Gross and Mark Vieder will serve as the Shlichei Tzibbur.

We will continue to make our main sanctuary services available via Zoom, so that those joining us from home will be able to connect and feel part of our special community. Please note, however, that those participating in the service with an honor are required to be physically present in the building.

Family services on the High Holy Days will be in-person, outside under a tent as well as being streamed via Zoom.

We look forward to a year of health, joy, meaning and happiness!

I (we) pledge to Adat Shalom Synagogue's Yom Kippur Appeal the amount indicated by the tab folded above.

As we welcome 5782 and re-open our building, we have come to the inevitable conclusion that this is the year Adat Shalom needs a new kippah! With your help, we will begin the process of placing a needed new roof over our heads.

Year after year, you have generously provided the funds needed to support our efforts to maintain our beautiful building and keep our spiritual home financially secure, and we thank you.

Rabbi Jacob E. Segal z"l and Cantor Larry Vieder z"l identified the synagogue as the home of the Jewish people. A new roof over our heads would support that ideal. The funds raised will be directed to this cause. Again we strongly encourage you to be part of our future by making a monetary contribution toward this year's Yom Kippur Appeal.

Your financial support will help us live safe, healthy, and meaningful Jewish lives and create a future for our children and their children and for many generations to come together in our synagogue.

All members will receive a Yom Kippur Appeal tab card in the mail. Please remember to bring it with you when you come to services on Yom Kippur Day, Thursday, September 16.

Your Yom Kippur Appeal pledge may also be completed online at adatshalom.org/HHD2021.

"How to Gather"

Led by
Rabbi Nosanwisch

Director of Spiritual Care

Let's explore the power of gathering. When making a Minyan, a quorum of 10 Jewish adults, there is a spiritual pull that goes beyond how and why we do it.

Monday, October 18 at 7:30 pm
at Adat Shalom

We will explore some of the "how tos" and "whys" of Judaism during this new series dedicated to learning, thinking abstractly, and discussing in-depth Jewish traditions, prayers, and ideas.

Future dates:

Jewish scholars and texts have been commenting on the proper treatment of older adults since biblical times: "Do not cast me aside in old age, when my strength fails, do not abandon me" (Psalm 71:9). The Talmud, Midrash, Halakha, and even modern Jewish thought emphasize our people's deep commitment to respect for the dignity of the older members of our community.

The focus of Better Together™: An Intergenerational Program is to sensitize students to the challenges of growing older and incorporate Jewish learning and values in their interactions with the older members of their community. The Better Together™ program, now an integral part of our sixth and seventh grade curriculum, includes the opportunity to teach students and our community members Jewish traditions and ethics that they can actualize in their daily lives.

Students and community members have the choice of attending in person or via Zoom, which means you can join us from Florida too! Activities will include art projects, music, text study, and documenting our shared memories. At the end of the year, we look forward to a celebration of all that we've accomplished.

The program will take place at Adat Shalom and via Zoom at 10 a.m. on October 10, October 24, November 14, December 5, January 9, January 30, February 13, March 13, and April 24. If you are looking forward to sharing your lives, experiences and wisdom with our younger teens while engaging in meaningful interactions and learning opportunities, then this program is for you! Our program is funded by the Legacy Heritage Foundation's Better Together program, and there is no cost to participate! Interested in hearing more? Reach out to Melissa Ser or Sammi Shapiro at 248.626.2153.

Back to School. Our first day of school this year falls right between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, and we could not be more excited about this return during the days of teshuva. We understand this word as repentance, but teshuva literally means turning or returning. As we reflect during the days from Rosh Hashanah through Yom Kippur, an opportunity presents itself to return to ourselves: to what we hope to become. For me, returning to school during this time is monumental, and I look forward to welcoming each of you and your children into our caring community of learners.

We are keeping up with rapidly evolving CDC and Michigan guidelines, and adapting as needed. Most of our students cannot yet be vaccinated against COVID-19, and as we return to the building we are following these guidelines to keep everyone as safe and healthy as possible. Our protocols include universal mask use for all staff and students, as well as any visitors to the school wing of the building. In addition, we will continue to offer a Zoom-In option for those who are quarantined, not feeling well, or uncomfortable attending in person.

Youth Engagement

Helping your children feel a connection to other kids and the Adat Shalom community is one of my goals. With a team of dynamic youth engagement leaders, we strive to plan fun social, cultural, and community service experiences that kids would enjoy attending. We do our utmost to create positive Jewish learning and social experiences that meet kids' and parents' needs and interests. Participation in these programs also helps strengthen your child's Jewish identity!

Kids in kindergarten to 4th grade have fun at Kids' Afternoon of Fun and Kids' Night Out events. 5th, 6th to 7th graders enjoy our programming that is created just for them (e.g. social and volunteer events). 8th to 12th graders have a blast being Madrichim (teacher assistants), volunteering, and learning together. This year's youth engagement calendar continues to evolve.

College Connections (undergraduate and graduate students)

Thanks to parent volunteers, Adat Shalom sends care packages before Chanukah and Pesach. Help us help your child stay connected to Adat Shalom.

Each fall I update our database and kindly request your assistance. Please go to www.adatshalom.org/college to complete a short form or email your child's name, school name, mailing address, cell phone and expected year of graduation to jgross@adatshalom.org. One of my favorite parts of working with children, and with my own child, has been sharing and discovering a love of animals. Walking through the zoo and talking about all the different animals, where they live in the world, and how we, as humans, are doing our part in protecting endangered species is such a joy for me.

The students in the Learning Community are always finding ways to help animals whether it is volunteering at a shelter, collecting supplies for shelters, or donating to local and national organizations. Helping our students connect to the value of protecting animals – Tzar Ba'alei Chayim is a great way to build on their understanding of living a Jewish life in a very relatable way.

Following our amazing Parashat Noach Shalom Shabbat experience here are a few things your family can do to support a local shelter:

- Volunteer to walk dogs (call and confirm availability and age requirements)
- Check with your older neighbors to see if they need help walking their dogs.
- Donate food and other pet supplies
- Collect old towels and bedding
- Consider donating spare change or money to pay for medical expenses

We can learn a lot from taking care of our animals. If you have a pet, what makes your pet special? And, what have you learned from your pet? Feel free to share your responses and photos on our facebook page.

I'll start: My dog Juneau has taught me patience and joy. She is a high spirited but loving dog and makes my house feel full!

OUR ADAT COMMUNITY

On behalf of the Adat Shalom Men's Club Board of Trustees, I would like to wish you a L'Shana Tova and welcome you to another year of fun and engaging programming. Our Men's Club remains one of the most active in the nation providing dozens of social, learning, and Tikkun Olam opportunities each year designed to appeal to men of all ages. During positive and challenging times, the Men's Club offers a welcoming place where men can support each other, learn, grow, and build social connections.

Fall programming begins with 'Havdalah in the Sukkah' at Rabbi Dan Horwitz's home on September 25, where we'll share the sweetness of the new year and schmooze with our new Rabbi. We will recognize the accomplishments of our softball teams and welcome a celebrity sports speaker at our annual Sports & Steak Night on October 13. 'Thoughtful Thursdays' hosted by Rabbi Bergman, restarts on October 7, with dates scheduled through the year. Paul Goldsmith will kickoff Adult Hebrew Classes on October 21.

Further out, our annual Chill'n with the Clergy social event happens on November 10, and to start 2022, we will hold a Men's Shabbat and Retreat with Rabbi Bergman. For a complete list of activities see the attached flyer and look for email notices prior to events. Please stay up to date by accessing the on-line calendar at www.adatshalom.org/affiliate-groups-programming/mens-club/.

I invite you to renew your Adat Shalom Men's Club membership, to become a member again, or to join for the first time. This year's dues are optional with a suggested payment of $36 appreciated. Your paid membership or charitable contribution helps to support Men's club activities, fund religious school scholarships, and support synagogue initiatives.

Regardless of payment, please fill out the online membership form or print and mail in the attached copy to be included in this year's membership. Doing so will add you to our distribution list so you won't miss any announcements. If you wish to make a payment, please make your check payable to The Men's Club of Adat Shalom or pay online at www.adatshalom.org/mens-club-dues.

This is your Men's Club and you belong here. Participating, volunteering, and sharing with others enriches lives. Please reach out to me if you would like to volunteer, have questions or comments, or would like more information.

Social Action in Action

Housing the Homeless | June 20-27

Although it looked different this year, we were able to participate in the Lighthouse - South Oakland Housing the Homeless Program. For safety during the COVID pandemic, the participants are housed in an area motel. There were approximately 115 men, women, and many children currently receiving this service. We provided lunches and dinners for 85 people each day. To accommodate the lunch needs, we assembled lunch groceries for the week. It included meat, cheese, fruit, bread, yogurt, cookies, and chips. Again for safety, dinners had to be a single serving and were catered by local restaurants. The Lighthouse staff reported that the clients were very grateful for the delicious food that we provided.

It takes a lot of people working together to make this a successful program. Thank you to Adat Shalom for supporting this important program in our community.

Thank you to our wonderful volunteers who stepped up to ensure that we could provide for those experiencing homelessness in this very difficult time.

Friday crew, who assembled the lunch kits for the week, Marcia Garland, Joshua Chynoweth, Cathy Halliburton, Barbara Charlip and Gail Tukul.

Sunday shleppers, who picked up the lunch bags and delivered to the motel, Michael Kelmenson, Sara Braverman, Joe and Myrna Salzman, Margery Jablin, Marcy and Tom Colton, Joshua Chynoweth, Amy Goldfaden, Alissa Goldfaden, Maddie Sandberg, and Ilana Woronoff.

Dinner sponsors, The Schostak family, Andy Pass, Amy Goldfaden and Larry Eilender, Betsy and Mike Winkelman, Dominos Pizza, Men's Club and Sisterhood.

We are very grateful for the continued support from Harry Maisel and The Hillel Isaac and Rachel Maisel Memorial Housing the Homeless Fund.

The staff at Lighthouse are beginning to make plans for a return to placing the clients in the community when it is safe to do so. We hope to have the program back in the synagogue next year.

Yad Ezra Food Deliveries

Adat Shalom volunteers delivered Yad Ezra groceries on Sunday, July 17. Currently, all Yad Ezra food distribution is delivered to clients' homes. Thank you to Marcia Garland and Michael Kelmenson for making these deliveries.

Yad Ezra needs volunteers Monday through Friday to deliver groceries. If you are interested in making food deliveries, contact Ruth Nadler, Yad Ezra Volunteer Coordinator at 248.548.3663.

Yad Ezra Kol Nidre Food Drive

The annual Yad Ezra food drive is Wednesday evening, September 15 and will extend through Yom Kippur. A truck will be parked outside of the main entrance for drop-off food donations. In addition, in the synagogue lobby there will be a place for monetary donations.

Red Cross Blood Drive | Sunday, September 26, 8 A.M. - 2 P.M

Every two seconds, someone in the U.S. needs blood. Blood is essential to help patients survive surgeries, cancer treatment, chronic illnesses, and traumatic injuries. This lifesaving care starts with one person making a generous donation. The need for blood is constant. But you can help the American Red Cross make sure that supply meets demand. If you would like to schedule an appointment, contact Debby Portney, debbyportney@gmail.com

Yahoo! Baby Baskets will soon be back!

Not to over-dramatize the return of this Adat Shalom tradition, but the baby basket brigade is preparing to deliver goodies to our newest shul-babies and their parents!

Just like the old days of nearly two years ago, the traditional welcome gift of treats for baby and a lasagna meal for his/her family will be delivered by our faithful team of Adat volunteers. And wow, will we need those!

We're fortunate to have a lot of stops to make – maybe as many as 50 deliveries! Yup, it's a lengthy process, so help will be needed and patience appreciated.

If you're willing to bake lasagna, prepare gift baskets, or deliver them, bless you! Let Charm Levine know at 248.737.8948 or text her at 248.798.3985.

She'll appreciate your help – and so will the parents of all those babies!

He leads us with a loving, compassionate heart; he is open to hearing what we have to say; and he tries to be fair in all his actions. You always know that he cares about you as an individual by the way he listens intently to what you have to say. He wants to understand what you are going through, providing a very human touch to his ministry. This is embodied when he is aiding a family which has lost a loved one; in guiding someone becoming a bat or bar mitzvah within a complicated family; or through the many classes he offers, filling us with his knowledge and inspiring messages. In addition, he helps us understand our teachings more deeply, and how we can translate them into our daily lives. He has a knack for taking our ancient texts and making them so relatable to present circumstances. In his hands, Judaism is simultaneously ancient, contemporary, and timeless.

As President, I have had the honor of getting to know Rabbi Bergman so much better through our weekly meetings, and I can honestly say he is a true Renaissance man. I always enjoy our hour together and have learned so much. There doesn't seem to be a topic he cannot knowledgeably discuss, be it scripture, current events, or 1970's musicians. Not to mention possessing great artistic abilities, which he frequently shares. He is probably one of the most multi-talented and adaptable people I know.

We celebrate this man today, and we are grateful for his 13 years' stewardship of Adat Shalom - especially through the unprecedented challenges this past year has brought. Rabbi Bergman has been a mountain of strength. Helping us find balance in our lives, he has given us opportunities to bring life into our homes, life into our minds, and life into our souls.

So, Rabbi Bergman, you have guided us along an often unknown path. Your steady hand is to be commended on this, your so-called Adat Shalom bar mitzvah. Mazel tov! I wish to say thank you and express my deepest appreciation to you for all you have done over your first 13 years with us! Here's to many more!

STAY CONNECTED. Please notify the synagogue office if you have changed your home address, email address, or phone number. Thank you.

Adat Shalom Synagogue Tributes

Adat Shalom's tribute funds provide support for our many important synagogue programs and services, which help to define us as an outstanding congregation.

We have set an $18 minimum price for tribute cards.

We are very grateful to members and friends who have consistently purchased tributes marking lifecycle events and other significant occasions, and we encourage your continued support.

Each greeting is individually prepared on a handsome card.

To arrange for a tribute, please visit our website www.adatshalom.org/tributes or call the synagogue office at 248.851.5100.

We will process your tribute and mail it promptly. Tributes received by the 1st of the month will appear in the following month's VOICE.

For information about how to establish a fund, please contact Executive Director Alan Yost.
