MESSAGES

FROM THE PRESIDENT, JOYCE BERLIN WEINGARTEN

As the days become shorter this time of the year and the weather becomes colder, we have two holidays on the calendar to brighten our lives.

One of my favorite Jewish holidays is Chanukah: the festival of lights that commemorates Judah and the Maccabees' unlikely victory over the powerful Greek army. This inspiring story of the rededication of the Temple and the miraculous single cruse of uncontaminated oil that burned for eight days in the menorah found in the Temple has warmed our hearts and souls since childhood.

I treasure so many aspects and memories of Chanukah. I love the story, potato latkes, applesauce, and dreidels of which I have a very large collection. I also love giving gifts on Chanukah; I loved surprising our children when they were young and still enjoy sending them gifts as adults. Mostly I love the chanukiah and the lights.

Jewish people of all denominations around the world will light a Chanukah menorah. Why do you think this is so? Taking out the chanukiah and getting it ready for the holiday invokes memories from childhood. It is fun to light, adding a candle each night while the lights grow brighter each time. Adding the next candle to the chanukiah each night in the proper order is a divine ritual in itself. The light from the chanukiah during some of the darkest and coldest days of the year is infusing and uplifting. Watching the candles burn is meditative and soothing. Note: be sure to make sure your preschool-age child's chanukiah is properly shellacked.

Although not a Jewish holiday, Thanksgiving is a time to gather with family and friends to enjoy a festive meal. Thanksgiving is a time not only to give thanks for what we have but also a time to give. While focusing on gratitude is important, making a concerted effort to offer our time, money, talent, or resources is equally if not more important especially around the holidays.

According to Proverbs, a mitzvah is a candle, and the Torah is light. We can be a light to others and ourselves by performing mitzvot. Perhaps there is someone you know that is not able to have a Thanksgiving dinner or latkes on Chanukah and you can be their light by helping them. Offering kindness through food, gifts, or company is a light that makes the world brighter.

Our congregation is a gift of light for you. We are always here for your simchas, sorrows, or if you simply need brightness in your life. You are a gift of light to our congregation by being part of our community. I enjoyed seeing all of you during the High Holy Days. Your presence, energy, and smiling faces continue to bring light and warmth into our synagogue. As you read this issue of the Voice, check out the many opportunities we have provided for you to be here.

Jeffrey and I wish you and your families a joyous Thanksgiving, happy Chanukah, and happy, healthy, and peaceful 2023. May you all enjoy the light and warmth of the holidays.

Year-end planning. The government allows you to count your synagogue dues payments, Yom Kippur Appeal donations, and other contributions as a portion of your tax deductions. In order to take advantage of these charitable deductions when you file your taxes this spring, we encourage you to remit this year's Adat Shalom dues before the end of December. You are also encouraged to pre-pay next year's dues. For answers to your year-end and gift-giving questions, contact Michael Wolf, Executive Director, at 248.851.5100 or mwolf@adatshalom.org

FROM RABBI AARON BERGMAN

I love Thanksgiving. I love the Food. I remember as a child the carving the kishka, and the matzah balls with marshmallows. The usual. Okay, not really, but we always have traditional foods and they are great.

I love the football games. Most of them. Some years more than others.

The best part of Thanksgiving of course is time with friends and family. Most families go around the table and talk about what they are thankful for. It is important to remember how much people do for us, and how many good things there are in our lives, even when things are challenging.

This is also the time people think about how much others were not thankful for them and what they did. They did something for others, but do not feel properly appreciated. There can be lingering resentments.

There might be a number of reasons you were not thanked:

1. They did not know what you did for them.
2. What you did was not really as great as what you thought you did, or that they really did not want you to do, or that they really would have been happier if you did not do that thing.
3. They did thank you, but you did not think it was sufficient, or you were not really paying attention.
4. They appreciated it, but did not know how to express it properly. A lot of our loved ones mean well, but it does not always come out right.

Jewish tradition has an interesting approach that I am beginning to understand. There is a phrase in our ethical literature that says, "The reward of a mitzvah (a kind and compassionate act) is an opportunity to do another mitzvah."

When you do an act of kindness for someone else, your reward is another opportunity to do another act of kindness. No promise of material prosperity or spiritual salvation in this world or the next. No promise of thanks. Just another opportunity to help others.

This does not make a great advertising slogan. Live Jewishly, work hard for others, and you will get a chance to do more work.

I believe this approach contains a key to happiness. The reward of doing this act of kindness is recognizing that it is a worthy thing to do, that we are living our lives in a meaningful way, and that what we do matters.

There will always be these opportunities. We never have to wonder what to do with our lives. Every moment is an opportunity to help, no matter what it is we do.

We can cherish the gratitude. I am not that modest. I do enjoy recognition as much as anyone else. The difference with this approach is that we no longer need the recognition.

I would add that if our efforts are constantly being ignored or diminished, it is okay to find others to share the good things in your life.

This Thanksgiving ask if what we are doing for others is what they really need.

If it is, be thankful you can help. That is the best reward we can ever have.

FROM HAZZAN DANIEL GROSS
My Bar Mitzvah

In recognition of my thirteen years at Adat Shalom and the November 6 celebration of both Rabbi Bergman's and my B'nai Mitzvah, I thought I would share a quick trip down memory lane to my own Bar Mitzvah.

My family attended Traditional Congregation, a small shul in St. Louis, Missouri. When I've explained to people in Metro Detroit what it was like, those who are familiar with synagogue approaches say, "Oh, like B'nai David." The shul had what is affectionately known as a "trichitza," with one section for men, one for women, and one larger section for mixed seating. The rabbi was Orthodox in his practice and the shul was not egalitarian – only men led the prayers and chanted Torah. I went to synagogue regularly as a kid, so I was very familiar with the service. When it came time to study for my Bar Mitzvah, I had two tutors – one taught me how to chant Torah and Haftarah and the other taught me how to lead Musaf. The latter came very easily to me because I had already absorbed the melodies that would surround me on Shabbat morning.

My Bar Mitzvah was December 9, 1989, and the parasha was Vayeitzei (which coincides with December 3 this year). I vaguely remember my d'var Torah being about Jacob's ladder. I find this to be a beautiful coincidence, because Jacob's ladder is the image chosen for our ark doors by Rabbi Jacob Segal, the founding rabbi of Adat Shalom. In addition to my davening of Musaf that morning, I also read four Torah aliyot, the maftir, and the Haftarah. After hearing my chanting, the rabbi said, "I think you'll be doing a lot of this in your future." I just assumed he meant the immediate future, because I continued to lead services and read Torah for years to follow. Little did anyone know, except for the clairvoyant rabbi perhaps, how my life would unfold!

A bit of irony is that Traditional Congregation has never had a cantor. They are led in prayer by a cadre of capable and knowledgeable congregants. Moreover, Traditional was a singing congregation. My idea of uplifting Jewish prayer, even at a young age, was the power and beauty that is created from people singing and praying together. To this day, many of the melodies that I continue to use come from my childhood.

I look forward to celebrating with you this month at our special B'nai Mitzvah event. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to serve as your cantor these past thirteen years. Save the date for when we celebrate my next thirteen years sometime in 2035!

FROM RABBI DANIEL S. HORWITZ

It may seem crazy to be reading this in November, but this issue of The Voice also covers December and Chanukah, so I'm excited to share with you 8 Chanukah Fun Facts you may not have known!

1. Chanukah commemorates a military victory (around 164 BCE) after two Jewish groups (one of which was the Maccabees) rose up against assimilated Jews and the oppressive Greek government.
2. "Chanukah" means "dedication." Our ancestors re-dedicated the ancient Temple after recapturing it from the Greeks.
3. The story of Chanukah does not appear in our Bible! The story about oil burning for 8 days shows up for the first time in the written record hundreds of years later in the Babylonian Talmud (written down around the year 550 CE)!
  - a. Remember to ask me why, if this is the case, when saying the blessings over the candles, we say that God commanded us to light them!
  - b. Also – the rabbis of the Talmud did NOT like the Maccabees. Maybe that's why they focus on the miracle of light rather than the miracle of the military victory...
4. In the Books of the Maccabees (non-Biblical books written down at the time of the revolt and shortly after), the reason given as to why the celebration lasted 8 days was that the Jews were belatedly celebrating the festival of Sukkot!
5. We do not use a "menorah" on Chanukah! Menorah = ancient hardware used in the Temple. Seven spots for flames. Chanukiah = hardware used to celebrate Chanukah. Nine spots for flames (corresponding to the 8 days of the holiday + an extra for the shamash – the helper flame).
6. Because the story involves oil, we cook with oil to celebrate! Deep fried deliciousness awaits! Whether it's donuts, latkes, deep fried Oreos or Zucchini, your imagination is the limit!
7. Dreidel is based on a German version of an English/Irish game popular at Christmastime. The letters on the dreidel (nun, gimme, hey, shin) are based on German letters: N=Nichts= nothing; G=Ganz=all; H=Halb=half; and S=Stell ein=put in.
8. Chocolate gelt is an invention of the past 100 years! Originally, actual coins were given on the holiday. American chocolatiers of the 20th century picked up on the gift/coin concept by creating chocolate gelt. In the 1920s, Loft's, an American candy company, produced the first chocolate gelt, wrapped in gold foil in mesh pouches resembling money bags. Chocolate 'geld' is also given to children as part of the St. Nicholas holiday in Belgium, Germany and the Netherlands (geld, spelled with a "d," being both the Dutch and German word for money).

So, we have a holiday that commemorates a military victory that we now say is actually about light but that really was probably about celebrating Sukkot belatedly, and that is supposedly about fighting assimilating into Hellenistic culture but contemporarily embraces spinning tops and chocolate coins from surrounding non-Jewish cultures as core symbols of the holiday, and that encourages us to consume foods that we know to be delicious for our souls but terrible for our bodies and skin. In short, it's complicated, which is the essence of Judaism! Complicated isn't bad. Complicated is good. And when deep fried or in chocolate coin form, it's delicious!

Wishing you and yours a chag urim sameach – a joyous festival of lights! -RD

FROM RABBI BLAIR NOSANWISCH

Growing Our Prayers

This past Yom Kippur, I shared in my sermon about my personal journey to connect with Jewish prayer. I explained that nine years ago on Yom Kippur, I said, for the first time, the Amidah (the private prayer that is at the center of our three daily services). That experience was powerful and challenging, not just because Hebrew was foreign to me, but also because of the shame I felt for all the things I didn't know. At the end of my sermon, I explained that what ultimately had allowed me to begin my journey was allowing myself to simply "start with alef."

I was later asked by someone who had enjoyed the sermon, "What is alef?"

I was stunned by the question. My attempt to communicate something simple and basic, that we should begin with the first letter of the Hebrew alphabet, the letter alef, was not basic enough. When I speak or teach, I always try to be aware of the person in the room who has no idea what is going on. As a student, I am often willing to ask whatever questions I have because I have been shown, time and again, that I'm never the only one who doesn't understand. I identify with the slowest learner in the room and I care about bringing them along. When you think like a teacher, you have to know what you want people to learn, but also what foundational information they need in order to understand. This person's simple yet powerful question reminded me that there is always a step further back to go in our understanding, especially when we talk about Jewish knowledge.

At the end of my sermon, I shared the following intention for the year to come: "To not let my fear or shame for what I don't know guide me, and to share the guideposts that have helped me along the way in case they will be of service to you." I share my intention with you here not only because I want to put it in writing, but also because I hope to hear from you about what you'd like to explore that will help you along the way on your Jewish journey.

In the coming year, I'm excited to be taking on the role of Tefillah educator for our 5th-7th graders in the Adat Shalom-Beth Achim Learning Community. I'm also thrilled that as a clergy team we are offering a number of classes and spiritual practices that are meant to help you connect more deeply with our tradition in a variety of ways. As examples, Hazzan Gross will be teaching a class about the siddur, Rabbi Dan is offering an Intro to Judaism series, Rabbi Bergman leads Meditation and Mindfulness, I will be teaching a class on theology ("God Talk"), and we offer Soulful Yoga in parallel to our main sanctuary service on a frequent basis.

We will continue to work to meet your needs for meaningful, connected, spiritual Judaism. Please let us know how we can best support you on your educational and spiritual journey.

The beauty of the 5783 High Holy Days was a result of the talents and time put forth by many congregants, our clergy, and staff. We are most appreciative of all those who helped to make this year's High Holy Days both enriching and memorable. Special thanks and yasher koach to:

Blessingway

We use mezuzot to mark the boundaries between one space and the next. A mezuzah is made up of a bayit (a house) and a klaf (a parchment scroll containing the Shema and v'ahavta). As part of Rosh Hashanah family services, children covered rainbow colored batim with decorations and a one-word intention for the coming year. On Yom Kippur, the whole congregation was able to walk through this Blessingway into the new year.

THE LEARNING COMMUNITY

FROM DR. MELISSA SER
Director of Education
mser@adatshalom.org

With Thanksgiving coming up, I want to take this opportunity to say thank you to our incredible team of clergy, teachers, madrichim, staff, and lay leadership for helping us get this year off to a great start. Our Better Together program had its kickoff program in October, and our Better to Serve program begins in early November. Both programs are funded through the Legacy Heritage Foundation. Better Together is an intergenerational program for our sixth and seventh graders to connect with older members of our community about once a month. Better to Serve is a hands-on Jewish Service Learning program for teens, enabling them to learn about and then do mitzvot while building friendships with other Jewish teens.

The Muscle Room Revamp: You may have heard that we received a matching grant towards revamping the Muscle Room into an Immersive Israel-themed Playscape. We are grateful to the anonymous donor who has agreed to match the funds received from the Hermelin Davidson Center for Congregational School Excellence, and while we have enough allocated to get started, there are still opportunities for sponsorships and contributions. Want to know more? Contact Melissa Ser or you can reach Paul Goldsmith through the synagogue office.

FROM SAMMI SHAPIRO
Assistant Director of Education & Youth Engagement
sshapiro@adatshalom.org

There are many things to be grateful for as we enter this next season. I've been reflecting on the past few years and one of the things I'm most grateful for is knowledge. I've learned a lot about myself over the past few years with taking a more active role in planning and leading family engagement programs here at Adat Shalom and personally with the growth of my family.

My husband and I welcomed our son into a chaotic pandemic world. There was not much to know and not much we could do about any of it. Luckily, we adapted quickly and learned to rely on our own instincts. As I enter my second maternity leave with a new child, I'm excited to see what it is I'll be learning this time around: a reinforcement of instincts, and the ability to lean into my support system.

What is your family grateful for this year? How do we help our youngest children identify these things? Talking about it as a family is a great start! Have discussions. Ask questions that make your kids think. Search on google for "gratitude dice" and follow the instructions. These conversations are a great way to add gratitude into our daily routines.

Being a Positive Jewish Role Model

The Madrichim, a cohort of caring and enthusiastic teens who choose to continue being part of the Adat Shalom community on a weekly basis after their B'nai Mitzvah, are an important part of our Learning Community (a.k.a Hebrew school). Our Madrichim program offers 8th-12th graders the opportunity to develop communication and leadership skills, increase self-confidence, explore Jewish values, and learn practical teaching skills by assisting teachers in the classroom and attending trainings.

These positive Jewish role models work with students on assignments, lead activities and games, and do much more. Part of building community in our classrooms is showing younger students that Jewish learning and engagement continues after becoming a Bar or Bat Mitzvah – and having teens in the classroom makes this message come alive. In addition to being part of our Madrichim program, many of these teens volunteer with the Teen Volunteer Corps, participate in our new Better to Serve program, plan to attend our future teen trips and/or are enrolled in Hebrew Class with EMU. Being in the Madrichim program lays the meaningful foundation for lasting connections to our Adat Shalom community.

I have the pleasure of mentoring and empowering these dedicated Madrichim... Emily Aidenbaum, Erin Biederman, Julia Blaharski, Leslie Blaharski, Rachel Chynoweth, Jillian Dickman, Mallory Columbus, Jimmy Erpardo, Goldie Fox, Rose Gallatin, Talia Hill, Zera Levine, Jonathan Manela, Jonah Miller, Aram Mouradian, Joshua Novak, Cori Rapp, Ariel Ser, Yonatan Ser, Avi Shere, Ezra Shere, Ben Wasser, Shana Wasser, Zachary Weisberger. Teens continue to register to be part of this worthwhile program.

When I recently asked Madrichim what they have enjoyed the most so far, a few shared...

- I enjoy helping kids and learning more leadership skills.
- I have learned how to talk to kids in a way that helps them open up more.
- I really enjoy learning about Jewish holidays because I kinda forgot them.
- I love working with little kids. They are funny.
- Being a Madricha helps me be part of my Jewish community.
- I enjoy getting to know the kids and learning about their interests.
- I am benefiting most from talking to the kids and bonding with them.

College Connections (undergraduate and graduate students)

Thanks to parent volunteers, Adat Shalom sends care packages before Chanukah and Pesach. Help us help your child stay connected to Adat Shalom. Each fall I update our database and kindly request your assistance.

Please go to www.adatshalom.org/college to complete a short form or email your child's name, school name, mailing address, cell phone and expected year of graduation to jgross@adatshalom.org. If your student/young adult has not moved, please let me know. THANKS!

OUR ADAT COMMUNITY

SISTERHOOD

Some might ask, What is Sisterhood? Sisterhood is for all of the women in our congregation. Sisterhood is a bond between women who share common goals and can come together to move an agenda. Sisterhood helps us work and live together. We feel connected with each other. We value each person. Did you know that our Sisterhood sponsors Kiddush every Shabbat and we prepare the kugels that are served at Bar/Bat Mitzvahs? Did you know that the beautiful gift shop in the lobby of the synagogue is owned and operated by our Sisterhood?

Sisterhood is a wonderful affiliate of the synagogue. Your faith in our leadership has inspired us to dedicate ourselves to making every woman who is a member of Adat Shalom feel welcome, feel special, and feel wanted. There are no rules, no judgment, just women wanting to be together and sharing experiences. If you are reading this article right now and you are not a member of Sisterhood, we are asking you to join. If you don't know anyone, reach out to us and we will welcome you with open arms. That is Sisterhood.

We are asking you to please support Sisterhood by joining today at adatshalom.org/sisterhood-membership/. Become a member of a very special group of women who step up to read Torah on Shabbat, knit and crochet on Sunday mornings, attend Rosh Chodesh study sessions, attend the Feminist Torah Study Group, attend exciting and innovative programs, and meet to discuss new and relevant books at our book club. Watch your email for details of a paid-up membership event in November, you won't want to miss that.

We look forward to seeing you at many of the upcoming programs highlighted below.

- Collaboration with the JCC Book Fair: speaker Marjorie Margolies at the JCC - November 1
- Knitting Circle - November 6
- Book Club night at the JCC - November 7
- Feminist Torah Study: Women Examining Life - November 9

Adat Shalom event information can be found in our weekly emails and on the Adat Shalom website at adatshalom.org/adat-shalom-events/. JCC Book Fair event information is at jccdet.org/bookfair.

MEN'S CLUB

As I write this month's column, I'm looking at the changing colors, noting that fall is in full force. So, too, is Men's Club. What a great start to the programming year we've had!!

In September, we were thrilled to come back together as a Men's Club community at our annual Sports & Steak Night. Thanks to the outstanding efforts of Lon Zaback, Marty Kaye, Steve Goldsmith (grillmaster extraordinaire!) and Gary Graff, we enjoyed steak, camaraderie, and a great dialogue with Dan Leach (of 97.1). We also honored our ASMC softball team, and MVP Stuart Katz!

Thank you to Joe Wener, Joey Lebovic and Jeff Tackel for helping to make the Learning Community's opening picnic a success. And a thank you to all that helped with cookie distribution after Kol Nidre services to kick-off breaking the fast!

We enjoyed celebrating sukkot together with Havdalah in the Sukkah... a special thank you to Michael and Betsy Wolf for helping to "host" - and to Michael for speaking to our group.

And two of our ongoing annual programs kicked off the 2022-23 year... Adult Hebrew Classes (thank you, Paul Goldsmith for spearheading this) and Thoughtful Thursdays (appreciation to Joey Lebovic for coordination and, especially, Rabbi Bergman for always providing such wonderful content and a great forum for discussion).

Coming up, we have more wonderful programs on the horizon. Join our clergy for an evening of food from "The Drunken Rooster" at the Adat Shalom fire pit at our annual Chillin' With the Clergy on Wednesday, November 9. We are excited to join with the full Adat Shalom community as we kick off Chanukah on Sunday, December 18. And looking into the new year, don't miss our annual Men's Club Shabbat and Retreat on Saturday, January 7 (please reach out to me directly if you would like a part in services that day). See our flyers and the Adat Shalom website for registration for all events.

None of our programs happen without you, our members. Our nominal dues of just $36 help us to make all of our programming possible. Please renew your membership today at adatshalom.org/mens-club-dues and you will receive our periodic communications, be able to attend events at discounted rates and, most importantly, call yourself a member of this amazing club! If you have questions, please reach out to me at amg@pobox.com, or Steve Goldsmith, VP of membership, at stevengoldsmith@sbcglobal.net. THANK YOU to everyone who has joined/renewed this year!

SOCIAL ACTION IN ACTION

RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE, September 11, 2022

For many of us, September 11, 2001 reminds us of a day in recent history when tragedy gripped our nation. It was a day of lives lost, shock, and so many unanswered questions. In the ensuing days following "9/11" so many stories were told of heroes who reached out to help strangers.

On September 11, 2022, many of us reached out to help others by donating blood. Our Adat Shalom community once again could be counted on to help save lives. 36 pints of blood were collected.

Thank you to our donors and volunteers! September 11 will always be a difficult day for many of us but by engaging in acts of kindness like donating blood, we can help to promote healing and save lives. March 12, 2023 is the date of our next blood drive...let's continue to come together to help others in need!

SHARE UKRAINE COLLECTION

I was recently contacted by Sam Rozenberg, SHARE Ukraine Detroit Co-founder. Sam was born in Ukraine and is passionate about providing help in Ukraine at this most urgent time of need. There are desperate needs in Ukraine for those living in these perilous times.

Adat Shalom is committed to supporting the efforts of this worthwhile organization. We will be collecting warm socks and underwear to aid in their efforts. You can drop off packages of both men's and women's underwear and socks at the synagogue or make a contribution of $18.00 through the synagogue. Donations can be made at adatshalom.org/ukraine or by check to "Adat Shalom Synagogue - SHARE". We greatly appreciate your much needed support.

Adat Shalom Synagogue Tribute Funds

Adat Shalom's tribute funds provide support for our many important synagogue programs and services, which help to define us as an outstanding congregation.

We have set an $18 minimum price for tribute cards. Each greeting is individually prepared on a handsome card.

We are very grateful to members and friends who have consistently purchased tributes marking lifecycle events and other significant occasions, and we encourage your continued support.

To arrange for a tribute, please visit our website adatshalom.org/tributes or call the synagogue office at 248.851.5100.

We will process your tribute and mail it promptly. Tributes received by the 1st of the month will appear in the following month's VOICE.

For information about how to establish a fund, please contact Executive Director Michael Wolf.

The wise and caring decisions we make today bring peace of mind and lessen the burdens of tomorrow.

ADAT SHALOM MEMORIAL PARK

For information about the purchase of cemetery plots please call Denise Gallagher, 248.851.5100

The cemetery is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday - Friday, closed on Shabbat and Jewish holidays.

Join Rabbi Bergman for the journey of a lifetime.

Adat Shalom is going back to Israel as a community March 12-21, 2023 and we would love for you to join us.
