MESSAGES

FROM THE PRESIDENT, JOYCE BERLIN WEINGARTEN

Shalom! I hope you are all having a safe and peaceful summer! I have been thinking about the word “shalom.” When it was taught to me many years ago in religious school, we learned that shalom means hello, goodbye, and peace. I remember thinking how could one word have three different meanings and especially how could it mean hello and goodbye?

The word shalom is used in many different contexts in Judaism: prayers, Torah, Talmud, Mishnah, and in general conversation. Our prayers and liturgy are filled with requests for peace. At the end of the Kaddish Shalem it says, “May the one who creates peace on high bring peace to us and to all Israel (and to all who dwell on earth).” And we say: Amen. Rabbi Nachman of Breslav said of this verse, “What is Shalom?...This is the joining of two total opposites, for although fire puts out water, and the Holy Blessed is He brought peace by joining them together (LM 1:80).” This made me think about what this all means.

The root of the word shalom means wholeness or completeness. The power of our words can bring joy and peace between people if we overcome obstacles in the form of differences or other emotions that may be in the way. When we greet someone with the word shalom, we express our joy in seeing them and the desire to have wholeness and peace in our encounter. It is also what we want upon leaving. Performers are often taught to leave the audience wanting more. If our interactions have been engaging and peaceful, we can enhance our relationships and feel good about saying shalom again.

Our prayer book is called Siddur Lev Shalem. The Hebrew word “lev” means heart and also means mind or intellect. Our siddur is filled with prayers for peace that fill our hearts and stimulate our minds. Shalom is a blessing and a value. Practicing mindfulness of speech in our interactions by using a wise heart can bring peace of mind to ourselves and others. Pausing to think before reacting to differences of opinions will help enable the power of words to find peaceful solutions.

Our magnificent synagogue Adat Shalom means Congregation of Peace. We are a community of people with various beliefs, approaches to life, and politics. When we come together to pray, learn, study, volunteer, and enjoy Shabbat we remember that we have way more in common than we have differences. Hazzan Gross ushers us out of Shabbat services each week singing a beautiful song about shalom for all. We break bread together at Shabbat Kiddush, dinners, and morning minyan breakfasts because at Adat Shalom you can be who you want to be feeling whole and complete. We put the shalom in Adat Shalom. Come to our synagogue and see for yourself.

Dear friends, may you have peace on your journeys as you come and go and may there be peace in your homes and in the world.

Jeffrey and I wish you a happy, healthy, safe, and peaceful summer.

FROM RABBI AARON BERGMAN

I am not sure what to do about Tisha B'av, the day that commemorates the destructions of the two Holy Temples in Jerusalem, the exile from Israel, and many other tragedies that our people have experienced during our history. Traditionally, we fast for twenty-five hours, beginning in the evening of the Ninth of Av and continuing until the following evening, making it the only other complete day and night fast except for Yom Kippur.

For a large part of our history, we blamed ourselves for the catastrophes that happened to us. There was an attempt to reconcile sin and tragedy in order to feel that there was divine justice in the world. We sinned and were appropriately punished. We said the first Holy Temple was destroyed because of our lack of loyalty to Jewish Law, and that the second one was destroyed because we did not act with enough mercy and kindness toward others. Jerusalem was destroyed and we went into exile.

My uncertainty about the proper way of observing Tisha B'av is based on two events that occurred in the 20th century: the Holocaust and the creation of a Jewish state in our ancestral home. The centuries of self-blame no longer feel fair. What sin that we committed could be fairly punished by the Holocaust? What divine justice would be possible to justify such destruction?

We are no longer in exile and Jerusalem is no longer in ruins, but has been rebuilt to a level of splendor undreamed of by our biblical ancestors.

Can Tisha B'av still be relevant and should we still fast the entire time? I believe the day is as important as it ever has been, but it is worth thinking about how long the fast should be. It is important to remember how much our people have suffered just because they lived Jewish lives, and that their willingness to embrace their Jewishness even in the worst of times is a reason that we are here today. Israel is a wonderful country, but we have seen all too often during these last few years, that it is also a deeply polarized society, one that can split apart and collapse if it loses its way as a state committed to both Jewishness and to democracy for all of the people under its control.

I personally fast from the evening until the middle of the afternoon. Others will have different and well thought out approaches, which I respect. We are living in one of the most extraordinary times in Jewish history, a time that our ancestors would never have imagined. We survived a tragedy of unprecedented scale, but also built a state in our ancestral land, all within a short amount of time. Tisha B'av reminds us of how much work still needs to be done. We need to remind ourselves of how far we have come.

Past Presidents' Luncheon, June 2023

FROM HAZZAN DANIEL GROSS

WHY TEN?

One of the most important services provided by Adat Shalom is the twice daily minyan service (a serendipitous play on words!). Every day of the year, no matter if it's a secular holiday or if there's inclement weather, Adat Shalom offers prayer services both in the morning and in the evening.

The word minyan is a Hebrew word that is translated as “quorum.” It comes from the root manah (מנח), meaning to count or to number. Ten Jewish people of at least Bar/Bat Mitzvah age are what constitute a minyan.

There are many explanations as to why ten is the magic minyan number. In the story of Sodom and Gomorrah, God tells Abraham that he will spare the cities from destruction if there are ten righteous people there. Philo Judaeus, a Hellenistic Jewish philosopher who lived two thousand years ago, said that ten is a perfect number. Ten is also significant because of the Aseret Hadibrot, the Ten Commandments, an indisputably powerful and symbolic connection. Lastly, the Talmud explains that the ten spies who went out to scout the land of Canaan are referred to as an eidah (עדה), which means congregation (the same word as Adat in our synagogue's name!). Ten is considered a microcosm of a community and, therefore, a minyan.

There are specific prayers that require a minyan: Barchu — the call to prayer; Kedushah — the Amidah prayers about God's holiness; Chazarat HaShatz — the public recitation of the Amidah; the Torah and Haftarah service; and last, but definitely not least, Mourner's Kaddish. Of these, Kaddish is what is most often associated with a minyan, as it is crucial that a critical number of people be gathered in order to provide comfort and community when one is saying Kaddish for a loved one.

What happens if we don't have ten people for minyan? It is acceptable to count the Torah as part of the minyan if nine people have assembled. It is also permissible to count someone under B'nai Mitzvah age as long as they hold a Chumash (the book containing the Torah and Haftarah readings). Lastly, thanks to modern technology and Zoom, people who participate virtually are now counted in the minyan as well.

There is something very special about coming together for prayer. While praying by oneself can be very meditative and therapeutic, one cannot replicate the support and camaraderie that is created with others. Whether it is harmonious (or cacophonous) singing together or the comforting schmoozing before and after services, our sages were astute in their implementation of the necessity for a minyan and the power of being together.

Post-pandemic, our minyan continues to grow and flourish, but there are still some days when we could always be bolstered by more people in the room. If going to minyan is something that interests you, but you are daunted because you feel uncomfortable or unfamiliar, please don't hesitate to reach out to me, one of the rabbis or Michael Wolf and we will be glad to help. We have undoubtedly the warmest, most caring, and peaceful minyan in the community — how could we not with the name Adat Shalom, congregation of peace!

FROM RABBI BLAIR NOSANWISCH

Almost all my favorite memories of being a kid are of the summertime. Summers were a time for spending as much time as possible outdoors, eating ice cream, and just generally “hanging out.”

In truth, the heat of summer can go two ways. In one direction, it's stifling and overwhelming. In the other, it's loose and free. On Tisha B'Av we feel the heat of the summer in the fiery memories of destruction in the past. We mourn and weep and try to stay indoors. Because we are fasting, we don't expend extra energy throughout the day; instead, we spend our day trying to make it through to nightfall. But only six days later, dressed in white for Tu B'Av, we dance out into the fields under a full moon. We get to feel free and open, the heat of summer seems to melt our boundaries, helping us to frolic (or simply feel joyful) out in the open.

All year long on Shabbat mornings we've been gathering our younger Adat Shalomniks for MiniMinyan. It's been a structured space where we sing prayers and get to know each other. We always have a Torah-related activity and separate space for our older kids to learn and pray together. This summer, in honor of the heat and the sense of fun and freedom it brings, we're heading outside for Camp MiniMinyan. We'll leave much of our structure behind and spend our Shabbat mornings doing camp activities based on that week's parsha. For Matot-Masei, we'll do a nature walk around the woods of Adat Shalom, just like the scouts did when they entered the land. We'll imitate Moses the dramatist as we open the book of Devarim with “theater day,” putting on a skit together. All summer long we'll meet on the playground, drink cold brew coffee (adults only!), eat popsicles, and enjoy the warm weather!

If you're a kid and you're reading this (kol hakavod!), I can't wait to see you at Camp MiniMinyan this summer. If you're a grown-up reading this, please make sure you take time to be outside this summer (with sunscreen and a hat, of course), whether you bring your kids or grandkids to Camp MiniMinyan, or you pop out to the playground during kiddush to take a few deep breaths and enjoy the laughter.

Before we know it, we'll be watching the leaves change and preparing for the High Holy Days. Let's savor the summer for all the light, heat, and joy it has to offer, and head into the High Holy Day season having made beautiful summer memories.

Shabbat Rocks, May 2023

FROM RABBI DANIEL S. HORWITZ

The Hebrew word most appropriate for this moment is lehitraot. Commonly mistranslated as “goodbye,” the word actually means “until we see each other again.” This isn’t goodbye. The Horwitz family will be back to visit Adat Shalom regularly.

What does our tradition have to say about taking leave from another?

There are two particular Talmudic teachings that I love that speak to this question.

First, we read in Tractate Brachot (31a):

“A person should neither take leave of another from an atmosphere of conversation, nor from an atmosphere of laughter, nor from an atmosphere of frivolity, nor from an atmosphere of purposeless matters. Rather, one should take leave of another from involvement in a matter of halakha.”

The rabbis of the Talmud always wanted us to have words of Torah on our lips, and here, they’re teaching that when exiting, you should ideally leave folks with words of Torah. Why? Because they believed that when someone thought about the person who had departed, that they would remember that person fondly due to having learned Torah from them.

I hope that during our years together, the Torah that we’ve studied together has resonated and impacted you all the way it has me, such that we’ll forever be able to remember each other and our time shared together fondly.

Second, we read in Tractate Brachot (64a):

Rabbi Avin HaLevi said: One who takes leave from another should not say “Lech b’shalom” – “Go in peace” – but rather, that person should say “Lech l’shalom” – “Go to peace.”

Rabbi HaLevi derives this teaching from two Biblical verses. In Exodus, Yitro says to Moses “Go to peace,” and Moses is then successful in his mission. In the second book of Samuel, David says to his son Absalom “Go in peace,” and Absalom meets an untimely end. So, clearly the former is a better formulation than the latter provided you legitimately are wishing the person you’re departing from well.

It has been such a privilege having the chance to serve as one of your rabbis. Thank you for the honor. Thank you for embracing my family and me. And thank you for all the Torah you’ve taught me.

L’hitraot v’lech l’shalom.

Until we see each other again, go to peace.

HIGH HOLY DAYS 5784

Everything we do at Adat Shalom, your spiritual home, is designed to bring joy, resilience, and meaning into your own homes and your own lives, no matter where or how you live. We offer so many opportunities to nurture your mind, body and soul. Our goal for the High Holy Days is that you connect to the services and experiences themselves, but also get a sense of how much we offer every day and every week. We want to inspire you to become more involved in any way that makes you feel more connected to the synagogue, to the community, and even to your family and yourself.

Whether you have been a part of Adat Shalom for years and are looking for new ways of deepening your connection, or are new and are looking forward to getting involved for the first time, we are here to help you have a wonderful experience.

We all wish you a sweet and joyous New Year.

SAMMI SHAPIRO
Assistant Director of Education & Youth Engagement
sshapiro@adatshalom.org

One of the driving questions in our educational program is "who do we want to be?" Not what but who. Once we figure out who we want to be, what will follow. At Adat Shalom we find ways to help our students, madrichim (teen teacher assistants), and teachers harness their strengths so they can grow socially, emotionally, physically, and Jewishly. We understand that there is no one path for Jewish learning and living, and that our students - like their predecessors - need to find their own way. We hope that their path will keep them engaged Jewishly, living full and rich lives as Jewish adults, and embracing the community that has guided them.

The pandemic put the brakes on the highly successful teen learning program we had in place until March 2020. The students who were in eighth grade when we shut down that spring are about to begin their senior year in high school. Our goal as we move into the coming year is to meet teens where they are and attempt to draw them into the warmth of the Jewish community - in Metro Detroit and here at Adat Shalom.

Teens (grades 8-12) are invited to join us for an incredible Shabbat Retreat at Camp Tamarack November 3-5, 2023. Generously subsidized by an anonymous donor family and the Legacy Heritage Foundation's Better to Serve program, this retreat will have a minimal cost to families. More information will be available by August, and we can't wait to hang out with you around the campfire.

We are also excited to restart our Monday Nosh & Drash program in October. Exciting topics change from month to month, and each series is taught by our educators and clergy team. Find a topic (or several) that pique your interest. Register for the year or for a three-week session - your choice! Dinner is included, of course, as the "nosh" part! Returning students will be pleased to see that we still have Oreos for dessert.

At this point in our summer it's nice to reflect about the last school year. There's time to think about what could be done better and what are we looking forward to. A favorite way in our classrooms to conduct a quick reflection is through "Joys and Oys". A "joy" is something that made us feel good/happy/joyful and the "oy" is something that made us feel sad or that we could have done better.

For me, a "joy" is having the privilege to be around and work with all the amazing children here at Adat Shalom. These kids bring such light into our world and all offer their own amazing uniqueness into our community and I wouldn't change any of it. Seeing the kids weekly and watching them interact with each other, teachers, madrichim, clergy, and other staff is just the most incredible thing!

My "oy" would be that even though we always have the best intentions not every plan goes accordingly. Not every interaction, lesson, or program goes the way we wanted it. With that reality comes a lot of adapting and adjusting as we go.

While thinking about some of these adjustments one of the ideas we'd love to explore is parents volunteering to be Room Parents. Some of the responsibilities would be to help connect families to each other and the greater Adat Shalom community. We want to see you and your family here on Shabbat morning enjoying Yoga, Torah Study, MiniMinyan, and all the other amazing opportunities. We'd love to have your input when working on our holiday programming, helping us to guide "what's important to families," and "where do we want to focus our educational approach."

With your involvement we continue to make Adat Shalom the place to be and your place to be.

If you're interested in being a room parent this year, please email sshapiro@adatshalom.org

Youth Engagement

Since 2018, I have had the pleasure of representing Adat Shalom on the Youth United Interfaith Community Service planning committee. With the help of Sammi Shapiro and Melissa Ser, we have played an integral part in the envisioning and implementation of this valuable teen volunteer experience at CARES of Farmington Hills. For the 6th summer, we look forward to volunteering and learning again with teens from Adat Shalom and around metro Detroit. This summer camp style volunteer experience is free of charge and open to every teen that wants to be a mensch.

DONATIONS NEEDED

The planning committee is asking each community partner to collect the items listed below. Collection bins will be outside the Learning Community office (downstairs) until Friday, July 28.

- Personal care items: feminine hygiene products, tissue packs, toiletries (all sizes), hand sanitizers
- Baby wipes, formula, diapers, food
- New socks (adults and kids)
- Non-perishable food items for CARES community food pantry

Thank you for donating.

OUR ADAT COMMUNITY

SISTERHOOD

We hope you are enjoying the beautiful weather and have had the opportunity to spend time doing things that bring you joy. Summer can be a good time to slow down from our fast-paced world and connect with our surroundings and the people who live alongside us.

We are once again able to participate in large group activities, allowing us to feel a sense of community. In the upcoming weeks, you will be receiving information about Adat Shalom Sisterhood Membership. Our goal this year is to have EVERY female member of Adat Shalom Synagogue become a part of Sisterhood. We know this is a large goal, but not impossible. If you are a current member, please rejoin. If you are a life member, please consider making a donation. We so appreciate all of our life members; however a yearly donation would help us tremendously. If you have never been a part of Sisterhood, please support us. Sisterhood has many financial responsibilities and commitments, such as providing weekly Shabbat Kiddush, B'nai Mitzvah gifts, scholarships, and exciting programs and projects. We need your support.

Joining Sisterhood will give you a sense of belonging. Becoming a Sisterhood member is a wonderful way to develop a comfort level within the synagogue. You will make connections with other women, recognize friendly faces, and establish an identity within Adat Shalom, making it feel like a true home. Whether you attend services once in a while or you are a frequent synagogue attendee, the time you spend at Adat Shalom will be richer and more rewarding when you have a connection through Sisterhood.

We offer many opportunities for learning. A few of the programs that we continue to offer are Feminist Torah Study, Rosh Chodesh Study Sessions, and Book Club. Engaging in the many activities Sisterhood has to offer will give you a fresh perspective and enhance your confidence within the synagogue.

When you receive your Sisterhood Membership information, please take a serious look, and consider joining. There are many levels of membership; pick the one that is right for you and know that you are truly supporting the heart of the synagogue. Help us reach our goal of all Adat Shalom women joining Sisterhood.

I would like to extend my deepest gratitude for a beautiful Women's Day @ Adat Shalom. Every detail was planned with perfection from the boutiques, presentation, talented and hilarious Judy Gold, delicious lunch, and magnificent Sisterhood gathering after three long years. I am grateful and honored to be the 2023 Sisterhood Woman of Distinction and will always cherish the beautifully inscribed plaque and Michael Aram tzedakah box that were presented to me as well as the Tree of Life pages in the program with the names of all those who dedicated leaves in my honor to raise funds for Sisterhood. The love and friendship that I felt the entire day was overwhelming.

May Sisterhood of Adat Shalom continue to go from strength to strength.

With love and gratitude,
Joyce

PEOPLE · PLANET · PURPOSE

Members of Adat Shalom have come together to form the Green Team! This group is supported by Adamah Detroit (formerly Hazon), MIPL (Michigan Interfaith Power and Light), and our very own Rabbi Blair Nosanwisch.

Adat Shalom's Green Team encourages us to look at environmentalism and sustainability through a Jewish lens. We are Shomrei Adamah, "Guardians of the Earth," and it is our responsibility to take care of the world around us, to "repair the world," tikkun olam.

The Green Team has been brainstorming ways to bring sustainability into our synagogue. Planting an herb garden and installing a water bottle friendly drinking fountain are two of our ideas. We welcome new members who would like to have a part in making Adat Shalom a greener place. Our next Zoom meeting will be August 21! Together, we are working to design practical methods of making our shul more environmentally friendly.

Contact Rabbi Nosanwisch at bnosanwisch@adatshalom.org for more information.

There is so much more too - teen havdalah nights, volunteering with Better to Serve and Teen Volunteer Corps, leadership training with our Madrichim program, and even high school (9-12) dual enrollment Hebrew classes. Do you have an idea for a teen program? Let us know!

Under Construction (and very exciting!)

Our Israel Playscape in the Muscle Room is underway, and we are so excited to see our ideas come to fruition. Thanks to a $30K grant from the Hermelin Davidson Fund for Congregation School Excellence and a matching $30K from an anonymous donor, we are able to get the bulk of the construction completed this summer. However, there are sponsorship opportunities for equipment (both in Phase I and Phase II) and design elements. Click on the QR code to visit our Idea Book and Wish List. Some items are unavailable on Amazon, but if you are interested in supporting additional elements, email mser@adatshalom.org.

CHESED COMMITTEE

Thank you!

Special thank you to volunteers Renee Wohl, Janet and Howard Halberg, Lindsey Kessler-Monson, Kate and David Zenlea, Geula Rapp, Wendy Winkler, Trudy Weiss, and Clara Elinger for delivering challot on behalf of the Chessed Committee!

Special thank you to volunteers Kate and David Zenlea, Ruth Zerlin, Ellen Starr, Linda Jacobson, Sandi Matz, Betsy Wolf, and Debbie Supowit for baking challot for Chessed Committee recipients!

As of June 20, the Chessed Committee has delivered 30 challot to synagogue members this spring. Please visit the Chessed Committee website adatshalom.org/chesed to learn more and to sign up to volunteer.

- Lauren Acker | laurenacker22@gmail.com

Compassion & Community

Be a mensch and volunteer!

Chessed Committee, is a volunteer-led committee doing acts of loving-kindness.

We are looking for volunteers to bake and/or deliver challot on Fridays and assemble and deliver baby baskets.

Together we can collectively strengthen the bonds of our Adat Shalom community.

Volunteer

adatshalom.org/chesed

A serving of loving kindness from Adat Shalom!

"On these three things the world stands. On Torah, on service, and on chesed, acts of loving-kindness." (Pirkei Avot 1:2). By working together with this volunteer-led committee focused on these acts of chesed, we will collectively strengthen the bonds of our Adat Shalom community.

FRIENDS' MOVIE GROUP

Hello film and cinema aficionados,

As of this writing, our next movie session is scheduled for June 25th. I know that will have passed when you read this, but be alert for the next iteration.

We have survived the isolation of COVID-19 with streaming movies and snacking in place. We have survived streaming movies and meeting in person for discussion and refreshments. Are we ready for the next level of seeing a movie as a group and meeting in person for discussions?

Please advise if this is in the on ramp.

There is no limit to attendance, we seek and welcome anyone who wishes to view movies and wishes to be part of the discussion.

Adat Shalom Synagogue Tribute Funds

Adat Shalom's tribute funds provide support for our many important synagogue programs and services, which help to define us as an outstanding congregation.

We have set an $18 minimum price for tribute cards. Each greeting is individually prepared on a handsome card.

We are very grateful to members and friends who have consistently purchased tributes marking lifecycle events and other significant occasions, and we encourage your continued support.

To arrange for a tribute, please visit our website adatshalom.org/tributes or call the synagogue office at 248.851.5100.

We will process your tribute and mail it promptly. Tributes received by the 1st of the month will appear in the following month's VOICE.

For information about how to establish a fund, please contact Executive Director Michael Wolf.

ADAT SHALOM MEMORIAL PARK

For information about the purchase of cemetery plots please contact Denise Gallagher at 248.851.5100 or dgallagher@adatshalom.org

The cemetery is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday - Friday, closed on Shabbat and Jewish holidays.

Joyce Berlin Weingarten shared a beautiful reflection on losing her father during COVID-19 and how grateful she is for our morning minyan. - Photo credit to Rabbi Nosanwisch who shared Joyce's very meaningful act of inviting the others into her grief, gratitude, and joy.
